More Payments to York and White Are Revealed

BY BEN COOPER.

Payments totaling $1,925 made either to Councilman Harry York or to Jack White, his business associate, in connection with city transactions were brought out in Wednesday's session of the bribery trial of York.

This sum is an addition to the $8,000 paid White as testified to the previous day. For the first time, evidence showing a direct payment to York was introduced in the trial Wednesday. Other payments to White, according to testimony on the second day, were a check for $425 delivered to York, payable to White at York's request, by Frank A. Pittman, and a check for $500 by H. R. Wagar, construction man. Cecil A. Pittman, also a construction man, said that he paid York $1,000 as a "loan" and has never asked repayment of the sum.

Developments Wednesday included the appearance on the stand of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin. The chief of state counsel was cross-examined by ex-Mayor Walter A. Sims, defense counsel, who said the investigation regarding the councilman Park deal. Mr. Boykin told the jury that he did not prosecute Charles M. Ford, former councilman, when Ford admitted that he got a $3,000 commission while a member of council "because there was no tangible evidence."

The state Wednesday continued its effort to link York and White in a graft association. Witnesses on the last of the six counts of the indictment will be called today as the prosecution intends putting up between 15 and 20 witnesses. It is expected York will take the stand as the first defense witness. Mr. Sims would not indicate whether or not he will call character witnesses for York. Nor would he state whether the defense will base an attack on the fact that York was an employee of White on a salary.

During cross-examination Wednesday, Mr. Sims touched on the fact that York was a "loan" to the state. He asked E. A. Pittman if there "would be anything wrong if York was working for White on a salary." Judge Humphreys ruled the question out of the grounds, that an answer would be an expression of opinion on the part of the witness.

Cecil A. Pittman testified that he had received $1,000 in York's hands in $100 bills at the Atlanta and Lowry bank corner as a "loan." Under questioning, Pittman said that he did not ask York for any of the money, but he had offered York a bribe or had promised him anything out of a contract. Attorney Sims asked to exclude Pittman's testimony on the ground that it was a loan and no violation of the law. He was overruled.

Hibernation Reports On Weevil Discarded

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—The department of agriculture announced today that it had discontinued the issuance of reports on boll weevil hibernation.

The reports dealt with the number of boll weevils entering hibernation in the fall, the mortality of weevils in the winter as determined by mass examinations and the emergence during spring of weevils in hibernation cages.

Decision to discontinue the reports was reached because hibernation data was likely to be misleading, in view of the fact that the mortality of weevils during the growing season may change the status of the weevil as a factor affecting the crop.

PLAN TO END NAVY DEADLOCK FOUND

MacDonald-Briand Conference Expected To Bring Agreement.

LONDON, March 19.—(AP)—That a way has been found to break the Franco-Italian deadlock over naval parity, a deadlock which threatened the very life of the five-power naval conference, was indicated tonight after a surprise meeting between Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, and Aristide Briand.

The two talked at French headquarters in the Hotel Carlton. Their conversation lasted two and a half hours, and after it Mr. Briand said:

"We have been talking about means to bring the conference to a successful conclusion and we are going to apply those means as quickly as possible."

This afternoon Mr. Briand had informed Mr. MacDonald that he was going to Paris tomorrow for a conference with Andre Tardieu and that he would return with the French premier when the latter came here for the week-end. Mr. MacDonald then telephoned Mr. Briand and requested an interview, hurrying to the hotel, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Isabel.

Gravely Important.

That the conference proved unexpectedly important was shown by the fact that Miss MacDonald obviously had been expecting a quick termination of the conference and that she waited for her father in the lobby during the entire two hours and a half.

The conference was covered by a handful of newspapermen after the conference. He was as non-committal as usual about details, but was quite definite in saying that the situation had taken a new turn and that optimistic events were in the air.

Always, when things seem at their worst, one may say "it will go out," said "That is true now."

He added his remarks about applying means to make the conference successful.

Leaves Smiling.

Mr. MacDonald came from Mr. Briand's room with a smiling face and greeted his daughter in an unusually cheerful manner. But he declined to answer any questions.

The French leader, in grading discussion of details, said:

"I am much more cheerful than I am too much and then I am reproached for it afterwards. We have been taking our bearings and experts have been making the observations precise."

This remark served to bring out the fact that Rene Massigli, French naval technician, and Mr. Craigie, of the British technical staff, were present during part of the conversation. Mr. Briand further conveyed the idea that his talks with Mr. MacDonald were concerned largely with practical figures instead of political aspects of the problem. Furthermore, he said that besides conferring with Mr. Tardieu in Paris he is to see the foreign affairs committee of the French senate.

Wichita Girl Sings For Home People

WICHITA, Kan., March 19.—(AP)—Wichita dressed in evening clothes to sing for the home people of the city who were gathered here for the first time in the city since the attack on the city.

Wichita sent their flowers and packed the forum for Kathleen Kersting, Chicago Civic Opera soprano, who sang to them the role of "Elizabeth" in Wagner's "Tannhauser." Among those in the home town crowd were men who had plunged deep into their pockets to give Kathleen her chance through years of study with European artists.

Kathleen, daughter of Henry Kersting, a farmer, already had made good for the Wichita Rotary Club, and Richard M. Gray, financier, her principal sponsor.

Funds for Brunswick Harbor Work Allotted

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The secretary of war today approved an allotment of $56,000 from the general appropriation for river and harbor work to be devoted to the improvement of the Brunswick (Ga.) harbor.

This money, it is stated, will be used to maintain the projected depth of 27 feet at mean low water of the bar channel and to hold its present width of 500 feet. There is now $30,000 on hand for this work.

The bopper dredger Savannah will be used for the work of maintenance dredging, to start about April 1.

CENTURY OF TRIAL FOR DRY LAW HELD AS WORTH WHILE

Prohibition Friends Use
Taft Letters in Defense of Present Conditions.

BY CECIL B. DICKSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—The views of the late William Howard Taft and of Josephine Booth that prohibition had improved the social order from the slums to institutions of higher learning were laid before the house judiciary committee today by dry advocates.

The late chief justice in a letter read to the committee and a copy of a speech submitted by his brother, Horace D. Taft, of Watertown, Conn., extolled prohibition and urged observance of the law from a point of "good sportsmanship."

Josephine Daniels, who as secretary of the navy under Woodrow Wilson made the naval forces dry, declared the dry laws should be given 100 years of trial, even if it cost $300,000,000 annually to enforce them. He said that during the hundred years prohibition would save the country $300,000,000,000 in liquor costs.

A statement from Commander Booth, of the Salvation Army, said that at the coming of prohibition conditions in the slums changed.

"Then 10 cent 'flap' is discarded for the 25-cent room, and the guest had the wherewithal to pay his way," she said.

William S. Bennett, a former member of the house from New York, who now lives in Chicago, testified that industry was more entitled to the credit for the growth of sentiment that resulted in the eighteenth amendment than were the "churches and the temperance societies put together." He described conditions he attributed to liquor traffic before enactment of the dry laws and said that modern industry demanded sobriety of its workers.

Resuming their testimony for their sixth day before the committee, the drys made a quiet attack today on the arguments presented by anti-prohibitionists. Although the committee room was crowded as usual with men and women, demonstrations were infrequent and quiet as compared with previous sessions when prohibitionists were being heard.

At the conclusion the drys announced only one witness for tomorrow. Daniel C. Cooper, a former commissioner of internal revenue, is scheduled to appear. Mrs. Lenna Lowe Yost, a member of the legislative committee of the National Association of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, planned to read a statement from Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale University, on the benefits of prohibition. As stated by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, executive secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, probably will be offered for introduction by Deets Pickett, his secretary.

Commander Booth's remarks were presented by Colonel H. W. Jenkins, of the Salvation Army.

In Salvation Army hotels in the pre-prohibition days, her brief said, between 25 and 33 per cent of the men in them were under the influence of intoxicating liquors. But during a recent smallpox scare in Chicago, it added, 500 men in a hotel were vaccinated and not one of them was found to be under the influence of drink. Her statement said Bowery workers in New York, "still declare without the slightest hesitation that conditions are fully 70 per cent better in every way than before the prohibition law was enacted."

Mr. Taft, who is head master of the Taft School for Boys at Watertown, told the committee that his distinguished brother had opposed the eighteenth amendment before its adoption but that after the will of the people had been expressed he advocated observance and respect of prohibition.

He read his brother's letter, which was written to Irving Fisher at Yale in November, 1925. The chief justice had written that "While looking ahead I despair of any success," but added, "I really think that it is possible, if we keep at it, to achieve a satisfactory result."

VIADUCT AWARD EXPECTED TODAY

Council To Hold Special Session To Award Forsyth St. Contract.

Award of the contract for reconstruction of the southern span of the Forsyth street viaduct to the MacDougall Construction Company is expected to take place at a special session of council at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mayor L. N. Ragdale issued the call in an effort to speed up the work and get it started without delay.

The MacDougall company is low bidder at a price of $20,350 or $9,250 lower than the next low bidder, the Virginia Bridge & Iron Company, which placed a bid of $29,600 for the improvement.

Wagar & Company was the only other bidder, asking $68,932 for the work.

The council of the borough of Atlanta set up $30,000 for the improvement and Fulton county another $30,000, making an aggregate sum of $60,000. There is about $5,000 worth of track work necessary to readjust the tracks of the Georgia Power Company, but this will be worked out before the meeting of council this afternoon and the contract will be awarded, it was said.

Mayor Ragdale has insisted that even effort be made to expedite the work in order not to tie up traffic in the vicinity any longer than is absolutely necessary, and Wednesday reiterated his stand in calling the special council session.

The northern sections of the bridge now are being renovated to conform to the plans of the new Union station under construction by the N. & S. T. L. railway. The MacDougall company is doing the bridge work on the northern sections.

Birmingham Dry Leaders Listed In 'Legger's Book

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19.—(AP)—Police revealed tonight that four little black books confiscated from a bootlegger on his arrest recently, contain names of several dry leaders, who have been prominently connected with enforcement of the 18th amendment.

The list is not of approximately 300 names of Birmingham men and women, who police say are socially and financially prominent in the district.

Revelation that dry leaders are named in the book was made by Detective Virgil Sandefer, who, with Detective Luther Hollums, arrested the bootlegger in whose possession they said the books were found.

Names of the dry leaders were withheld by police authorities who said neither these names or those of other persons found in the books would be released to the public.

Speculation over identity of persons reported listed in the books has been widespread in the district for the past two days following police announcement that a furor would result if the names were made public.

Police have stated that the books contain names as well as addresses, telephone numbers, brands of whiskey preferred, and financial accounts.

In one instance, police said, a prominent corporation head was listed as owing $1,400 for Canadian Club whiskey.

Police said persons listed in the book probably would not be questioned but that they hoped to develop through other lines the identity of persons connected with what they term a liquor importing ring of wide extent.

DEATH CLAIMS LORD BALFOUR

Distinguished Briton
Dies Quietly in 82d Year
After Long Illness.

WOKING, Surrey, England, March 19.—(AP)—In a room of his brother's house, looking out to the peaceful English countryside he so much loved, Lord Balfour died today.

He was a former prime minister of Great Britain, and the last of the great Victorian statesmen. His last act was characteristic of his whole life.

Sending for his man-servant, James Colman, who had been in his service 30 years, Lord Balfour took him by the hand and said:

"Goodbye, James. Thank you very much for all you have done for me."

Today all the chief public figures of England, headed by King George, united to pay tribute to the man who in the rough and tumble of political life—and none was a more devoted fighter than he—never lost his perfect courtesy or that philosophic calm reflected in his numerous speeches and writings.

The house of lords and the house of commons adjourned for the day out of respect to his memory, but perhaps the tributes which the dead statesman himself would have preferred most have come from the man and the woman in the street.

"He was a gentleman," is the phrase which was on the lips of thousands of Britons today. The Briton knows no higher praise.

Tributes poured in, too, from all over the world. August Zaleski, Polish foreign minister and president of the council of the League of Nations, telegraphed the following message to Foreign Minister Henderson on behalf of the council:

"We extend sympathy and regret in the death of Lord Balfour. As the British representative on the council and in the assembly during the early years of the league, he guided and inspired their labors by the brilliance of his intellect, his immense experience of great affairs, by the faultless nobility and justice of his character, and by his unflinching devotion to the cause of peace and international co-operation."

As soon as Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, learned of the death he asked Ambassador De Fleurbaey to convey his own and the French naval delegation's deep sympathy to the dead statesman's family.

Lord Balfour was 82 years old. He was created an earl and viscount in 1925 and was the first peer to be created in the peerage since 1821, and will be succeeded by his brother Gerald, in whose house he died.

The funeral will be held at Lord Balfour's Scottish home at Whittingehame.

"We expect it will be about 40 or maybe a little below in the morning," the prognosticator declared, "and it won't warm up a great deal during the day. There will probably be another frost Friday morning," he concluded.

The maximum temperature for today is estimated at approximately 50 degrees, while this will be followed by another mild drop tonight. Clear skies are expected to be in evidence as winter takes a parting fling at this section of the country.

PRIMARY CLIMAXES HEATED CAMPAIGN

Nelson Spratt Given 7,019
Votes To Lead Opposition Ticket—Etheridge
Follows Gilbert.

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.
Dr. William L. Gilbert, Paul S. Etheridge and Walter C. Hendrix, incumbents, were renominated as Fulton county commissioners in the primary held Wednesday. Nomination is tantamount to election.

Incumbents piled up a total of 23,827 votes as against 20,808 for the opposition ticket, thus receiving 3,019 votes more than the combined total of their opponents.

There was, however, only a margin of 1,351 votes separating the highest vote-getter, Dr. Gilbert, and Alex Whitley, of the opposition ticket, who received the lowest number.

Both Mr. Etheridge and Dr. Gilbert are veteran members of the commission, having served in that capacity for many years.

Mr. Hendrix formerly represented Fulton county in the Georgia legislature and the thirty-fifth Georgia senatorial district in the state legislature.

The race was a nip-and-tuck affair for the first two hours after the polls closed, but gradually the incumbents drew away to a small lead and continued to pile up the majority.

Others composing the opposition ticket were Nelson T. Spratt, at present a new entry to the 10th ward, and Dr. Dan Griffith.

Tabulation of the votes as completed Wednesday night by The Constitution showed the following:

Etheridge, 7,906; Gilbert, 8,147; Griffith, 6,003; Hendrix, 7,774; Spratt, 7,019; Whitley, 6,796.

Despite claims and overcast skies during the day, approximately 14,878 went to the polls.

Forecasts were that the threatening weather would cut down considerably the number of votes to be polled.

Mr. Hendrix defeated Dr. Griffith for the county district by a majority of votes. Under the law, one of the five commissioners must come from an unincorporated area, and Mr. Hendrix will fill that post for the next four years.

All those nominated will be the nominees of the democratic party in the general election for terms of four years each. Commissioners Edward H. Inman and Walter B. Stewart were not up for renomination.

Mr. Etheridge, who received the second largest number of votes of the four in the race for the two remaining posts, had a majority of 887 over Mr. Spratt.

Cuban Panorama Flits Before Good-Will Party

Members of Georgia-Florida Party End Two Days of Sightseeing.

HAVANA, March 19.—(Special.)—Two days of varied glimpses of Cuba behind them, members of Georgia-Florida good-will trade tour tonight looked forward to the most outstanding event of the visit, reception of the tour tomorrow by President Machado. The meeting of Machado and friends from Georgia and Florida who are returning the courtesy Cuban businessmen paid Atlanta some months ago, will take place informally at the palace. President Machado has been eager to receive the group and the conference at 10:30 o'clock inaugurates the day's program.

Other scheduled events for Thursday are a trip to Morro castle and a tea by Mayor Gomez of Havana, at his country estate. Tomorrow they will visit the Malecon monument and memorials of four Cuban patriots with wreaths symbolic of the friendship of the United States and Cuba. This project, sponsored by Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, of Atlanta, has become popular with both Cubans and Americans and every member of the tour has contributed.

Today Georgians visited the new $16,000,000 capitol building, inspected tropical brewery gardens, and were guests at a tea-dance at the Havana Yacht Club, offered by Antonio Ruiz, governor of Havana province.

Francis Clarke, assistant general manager of The Atlanta Constitution, expressed sentiment of the party when he said, "I am tremendously impressed with the beauty of the capital and my admiration of the structure is bounded only by my admiration of the nation which reared it. I found it intensely interesting to note the obvious use of Cuban materials and Cuban workmanship an thought it particularly significant that so small a nation could erect so magnificent a building." He added that several members of the tour who have traveled in Europe, making study of architecture, declared that nowhere on the continent had they seen such an impressive piece of work.

Members of the tour today at the Central American Olympic games witnessed a baseball game between Cuba and Panama.

INCUMBENTS WIN COUNTY BOARD RACE

Mr. Spratt, who made the best race for the opposition ticket. Incumbents took 19 of the 37 precincts while the opposition won mustered 16. Three were regarded as split.

A feature of the balloting was that the incumbents carried every one of the county precincts here. Folsom's district, which was regarded as split, while the opposition ticket carried 16 of the precincts located inside the borough, and split two others. The incumbents added only four borough precincts to their list.

Ends Heated Campaign. The primary marks the closing of one of the most heated races of its kind staged in Fulton county in many years and every inch of the ground was bitterly contested.

Finally the battle resolved itself into a fight between the two tickets, with a clear alignment of forces. The old guard emerged victorious by substantial majorities.

Charges and counter-charges were flung at virtually every meeting at which candidates spoke, incumbents claiming the opposition was waging a fight of slander and vilification of public servants who had proven their worth and their honesty in administering county affairs, while the opposition held that the administration had made improvements in which the incumbents themselves were financially interested.

Dr. Gilbert, high vote-getter, Wednesday night issued a statement thanking his friends and the voters of the county for the substantial majority he annexed.

"To my numerous friends and loyal supporters, I wish to express my heartiest thanks," he said, "but for them and for their generous support, we could not have won. I shall always be grateful and will give the citizens of every section my best services, always seeking the best interests of all the county and the common good."

Etheridge Gratified. "It is indeed gratifying to know that the sound business administration of county affairs has been vindicated by the people of Fulton county in a contest which has resulted in a notable victory in the face of conditions that have existed in the community and the amount of money spent to capitalize them," Mr. Etheridge declared.

"I can not express my gratitude adequately to my friends who have so loyally fought to achieve this victory," Mr. Hendrix, who will represent the county at large, also issued a statement thanking those who supported him. "I feel very grateful to my hundreds of friends and to those who worked so loyally and so tirelessly in my behalf," he said. "I shall continue to serve the county's best interests at all times, striving for the upbuilding of all sections."

All members of the opposition ticket also issued cards of thanks to their friends and supporters.

Spratt Thanks Supporters. "I wish to extend my most earnest and heartfelt thanks to the hundreds who fought so valiantly in my behalf," Mr. Spratt declared. "We waged a

Wednesday the search was continued. A telephone call to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, at Birmingham, revealed that he was not there and that they had had no word from him. Though the brother was deeply worried, the hunt was given up at noon, the school officials and the students not knowing where else to look for him.

Late in the afternoon Winfred Winn, of Milledgeville, a fellow student, and a negro janitor entered the seldom used laboratory and there, behind a row of shelves, stumbled over the body and the tell-tale beaker. The authorities said he had been dead since 8 o'clock Tuesday night, an hour after he left the Messick home. Dr. Griffith also expressed his thanks. "There are no adequate words with which to tell my hundreds of loyal friends and supporters just how much I appreciate their assistance," Dr. Griffith declared. "I made friends whom I shall never forget. The unselfish manner in which they rallied to my support will ever linger as one of my fondest recollections."

"To all those who rallied to my support and especially to the hundreds who worked so tirelessly in my behalf, I extend my thanks and appreciation," Mr. Whitley said.

"The race has been trying. We fought a good battle against overwhelming odds, but I feel very grateful."

THREE PROTEST ISSUE OF S. C. ROAD BONDS

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 19.—(AP) Complaint papers were filed in the court of common pleas for Richmond county here today by three citizens and taxpayers of South Carolina against the governor, state treasurer and the state highway commission seeking to have the scheduled sale of $10,000,000 worth of highway bonds on Friday declared null and void.

The bonds offered for sale Friday represent the first block of the $85,000,000 certificates of indebtedness by which the state plans to construct a half-surfaced highway system.

The complaint papers were filed by D. W. Robinson, Columbia attorney, representing Dr. S. W. Williamson, of Darlington; Mark Rayham, poultry matron, of Aiken, and Z. W. Meeks, newspaperman, of Anderson.

CYCLE DELIVERY BOY KILLED ON FIRST TRIP

Making his first run as a motorcycle delivery boy, Dewey Hill, 18, of 1048 Oak street, was killed early Wednesday afternoon when his motorcycle crashed into a telephone pole in front of the Forrest Avenue school at Forrest avenue and Glen Iris drive, police reports stated.

The youth's neck was broken and he was dead when taken to Grady hospital. According to information furnished the police by a 12-year-old negro boy who witnessed the accident, Hill seemed to be looking to one side when his machine veered and struck the pole. Hill's delivery service was said to be in the nature of a test run. The car attached to the motorcycle contained delivery records from Davidson-Paxon Company and the run was being made to demonstrate the value of motorcycles in delivering packages for the department stores, it was stated.

The motorcycle belonged to Guy Cunningham, of 1140 North avenue, motorcycle dealer. It was loaned to Hill to make the test runs.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hill; two brothers, Harlin and Denzel Hill; one sister, Mrs. E. D. Kasper, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hill. The body is to be taken to Dalton at 9 o'clock this morning for funeral services and interment.

The appellate tribunal upheld the federal district court, which awarded Grant and Mrs. Grant $100,000 in amounts of income tax paid under protest for 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923. Their appeal was taken by J. T. Rose, collector of internal revenue at Atlanta.

The buildings on which the depreciation occurred were left to Grant by the latter's father.

Aviator Is Killed In Target Practice

HOBART, Tasmania, March 19.—(UN)—British naval gunners brought down one of their own seaplanes in target practice in Norfolk bay today, causing the death of one man and injury to two others.

The plane was poised 1,000 feet above the warships when an 18-inch shell exploded beneath it. The concussion caused such extensive air-pockets that the seaplane went into a tail dive, hitting the water, breaking its back, and rebounding 40 feet.

Wireless Operator MacGowan was drowned. Lieutenant Elliott and Flying Officer Grant were rescued by boats from the battleships but were severely injured.

was his chemistry instructor and whom he aided in the laboratories. When he did not return home Tuesday night his brother became alarmed and instituted a search for him. He called the hospitals and his student friends, but there was no trace of the younger brother.

Wednesday the search was continued. A telephone call to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, at Birmingham, revealed that he was not there and that they had had no word from him. Though the brother was deeply worried, the hunt was given up at noon, the school officials and the students not knowing where else to look for him.

Late in the afternoon Winfred Winn, of Milledgeville, a fellow student, and a negro janitor entered the seldom used laboratory and there, behind a row of shelves, stumbled over the body and the tell-tale beaker. The authorities said he had been dead since 8 o'clock Tuesday night, an hour after he left the Messick home. All day long his fellow students had hurried back and forth within a few feet of where his body lay, rushing to get the degree young Jones so much coveted.

HEFLIN'S PRIMARY FATE RESTS WITH HIGH COURT

Alabama Supreme Court To Pass on Senator's Candidacy Status.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 19.—(AP)—Whether United States Senator J. Thomas Hefflin may become a candidate for re-nomination in the August democratic primary or be forced to run as an independent in the November general election tonight rested with the supreme court of Alabama.

In addition to Hefflin the aspirations of Hugh Locke, Birmingham, and Will Lee, Columbia, gubernatorial candidates, all of whom supported President Hoover, will be affected by the court's ruling on a case brought by Horace C. Wilkinson, Birmingham attorney. Wilkinson, appealing from a decision of the Jefferson county circuit court, seeks to have the primary declared unconstitutional because the state democratic executive committee established separate qualifications for voters and candidates. The supreme court has the case under advisement.

John H. Bankhead, Jasper attorney, and Frederick L. Thompson, Mobile publisher, are seeking the senatorial nomination in the primary to oppose Hefflin in the general election. There is a field of six in the gubernatorial primary race.

Wilkinson's appeal which was argued before the supreme court today had its inception in the action of the state democratic executive committee at its meeting here December 10, in barring from becoming candidates for federal, state, district or circuit offices in the August primary, persons who in 1928 failed to support the democratic presidential electors.

The ruling was not made to apply to voters.

KIDNAPED AMERICAN'S RANSOM PRICE HIKED

Mexican Bandits Hold Oil Operator for Sum of 10,000 Pesos.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, March 19.—(AP)—While relatives here today were attempting to negotiate the release of J. E. Bristow, 60, an American oil operator kidnapped by Mexican bandits near Tepic, Narayit, word was received that ransom of 10,000 pesos had been demanded, instead of 3,000 pesos as at first reported.

Frederick Yenny, in a telegram to relatives of the oil operator at San Angelo, today reported Bristow left Tepic March 4, with Charles Fields and Alfonso Acequera. Four days later, Yenny stated, Bristow and his companions were kidnapped and Bristow held for 10,000 pesos ransom.

Field, Yenny said, was given a signed check by Bristow with which to obtain ransom money, but the bank refused to honor it. Acequera, he added, escaped. Yenny also reported the military was trying to locate the bandits and that it was "impossible to get in touch with Bristow."

A message from the American consul at Juarez, Mexico, said an "emissary from the bandits was expected at Tepic at any time."

The kidnapping of the San Angelo oil operator has been called to the attention of the Mexican government by the United States ambassador who requested every effort be made to free the Texan.

New York Senator Backs George for Court Post

Copeland Urges Hoover To Name Georgian to Supreme Court Vacancy

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19. (Special.)—The state of New York through one of its representatives in the United States senate today joined with the Georgia congressional delegation in urging the appointment of Senator Walter F. George to the vacancy on the highest tribunal of the land.

After a conference with a number of his colleagues in the upper chamber, Senator Royal S. Copeland, democrat, New York, called on President Hoover at the White House executive offices and informed him that the appointment of the Georgia senator would be met with general satisfaction, not only in the southern section, but in New York as well. Senator Copeland based his statements on a canvass of the situation he has made in the senate, where he said the qualifications of Senator George for the vacancy were highly regarded.

The visit of the New York senator to the White House marked the first move, outside of the Georgia delegation, on the part of Senator George's colleagues to have the appointment tendered him. It is to be followed by other endorsements from members of the senate and in some quarters is looked upon as the forerunner of a concerted effort to advance the Georgian's name for the important post.

Not Candidate.

Senator Sabin G. Bratton, democrat, New Mexico, is another who is scheduled to confer both with the president and with Attorney-General Mitchell on the appointment. Although Senator George has insisted that he is in no sense a candidate for the office and has informed his friends that he has not decided whether he would accept if the appointment were tendered him, the Georgia delegation, with Senator W. J. Harris participating, passed resolutions endorsing him last week and sent a committee to the White House to urge his appointment.

Senator Copeland in his conference at the White House today, told the president that he had known Senator George intimately ever since they both came to the senate some eight years ago. Their seats in the chamber are adjoining and from this close contact he informed the chief executive that he had closely observed the Georgian's activities and had come to have the highest regard for his legal training and judicial temperament.

As one of those who warmly supported the confirmation recently of Charles Evans Hughes, of New York, as chief justice of the highest tribunal, Senator Copeland asked the president that Senator George's opposition to Mr. Hughes not be considered in weighing his qualification. Mr. Hoover assured him that the Georgia senator's vote on the Hughes confirmation would not figure in the deliberations at all, that he was much impressed with Senator George's qualifications and intended to reach a decision in the matter within a few days, if possible.

Leaves in Southern. The president is said also to have reiterated his disposition to name a southern man for the post, if one of the pillars of the constitution has in mind can be found.

President Hoover is experiencing some difficulty in arriving at a decision, it is said, because of the large number of candidates who have been proposed. In addition to Senator George, Georgia has two other suggested contenders in the field, United States District Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the northern district, and Judge W. H. Barrett, of the southern federal district. Nearly every state of the south is represented in the list of candidates, due to the assumption which arose from the start that the office would go to a southern man, since the vacancy was caused by the death of Associate Justice Edward T. Sanford, of Tennessee.

Woman Rejoices On Learning Term Is Only 40 Days

Viley Moore apparently is slightly deaf and this fact almost caused her to faint away in federal court here Wednesday when she was found guilty on a whiskey charge.

Judge Samuel H. Sibley sentenced her to 40 days in the county jail but the defendant's ears deceived her. She thought he said 40 years and she was led mourning from the courtroom. An attempt to correct the erroneous impression almost failed when she took the correction to be four years. It was finally made plain to her that 40 days was all and the resulting rejoicing was "exceedingly great."

The federal court continued to grind out whisky cases Wednesday as a few guilty pleas were entered and four jury trials completed. William M. Cook was found guilty and sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $100. He was charged with violating the prohibition laws.

The New Gillette Blade

gives cleaner, smoother, quicker shaves in

The New Gillette Razor

Spend a few pennies today for the greatest shaving improvement in twenty-eight years

THE old Gillette was a good servant. The New Gillette Blade and Razor (patents pending) is a better one—very much better.

You never need waste your time wiping this razor dry. And there's never any "razor pull" to deprive you of shaving comfort. These are only two of many improvements that have been made.

In tackling the problem of "razor pull," thousands of men were interviewed. Tens of thousands of razors were examined. The evidence all pointed one way. Most razors had been dropped and the corners dented. The dent threw the blade out of alignment. And this caused "razor pull." The smallest dent could do great harm, for your Gillette is a finely precision instrument.

Now the trouble is solved. In the New Gillette Razor the four corners have been reinforced to withstand the hardest knocks. The four corners of the new blade are cut out. The blade is not held at its corners at all when cap and guard are screwed together. There's no chance of its being thrown out of alignment even if the razor is dropped.

When you're through shaving with this new razor, there's no wiping necessary. You don't need to take it apart. Because this new blade is specially processed to resist rust, you merely hold razor under hot running water, shake thoroughly...and lay on the shelf.

The old posts are gone, too. They stuck through the blade and so often accidentally caught and dulled the blade edges. Please note, too, how the guard teeth are rounded back farther, to meet the skin more smoothly, more comfortably.

Another great convenience—the ends of the new blade are square, for safer handling with wet fingers. The square ends fit flush with cap and guard and permit closer shaving around the tight little corners of mouth, nose and ears.

Changed and improved as this New Gillette Blade is, it has been designed so it will fit your old razor until you are able to get your New Gillette. The new razor, 24K. gold plated, and in a beautiful case with New Gillette Blade, is only one dollar. The New Gillette Blade in the new green package costs one dollar for ten, or fifty cents for five.

Here's your chance to know how smooth a shave can be—to own a razor that will deliver the same superb shaves year after year in spite of hard knocks and abuse. Make it a point to stop at your Gillette dealer's today.

Farm Truck Will Try Test Run to New York

Fresh Georgia Vegetables on Eastern Markets Within 36 Hours Goal of Proposed Trip.

BY RALPH MCGILL.
DOUGLAS, Ga., March 19.—Fresh Georgia vegetables on New York markets within 36 hours after they are picked from south Georgia truck farms.

That will be the goal of one of the most thrilling road races that has been staged in years. The test truck, loaded with six tons of radishes in their baskets, will move out of Douglas one day this week if the weather clears, and attempt to make New York city 36 hours after they quit the city limits here. Should weather cause delay the road race will get under way next week.

H. B. Macklin, perhaps the largest truck farmer in Georgia, is the man who is behind the race. If it proves successful he believes it may revolutionize the truck farming business and boost it to new heights.

Fleet of Trucks Planned.
If the plan proves practicable, and he believes it will, a fleet of trucks will be put into operation giving the New York markets fresh Georgia lima beans and tomatoes within 36 hours. Macklin has about 2,000 acres under cultivation in truck farming. Last year saw him put about 600 acres in tomatoes alone. He specializes in radishes, tomatoes and lima beans.

In this experiment he is representing a company and the farmers of his neighborhood who are associated with him. The company and the farmers are able to finance the fleet of trucks if the plan proves practical.

"We will start the truck out of here Saturday unless something interferes," said Macklin tonight. "Of course the driver will meet with the Saturday and Sunday traffic, which is heavier than that of the other days during the week. We want, however, to make this test with as many adverse conditions to contend with as might actually occur on any trip."

Great Interest Shown.
Agricultural men of this section are watching the road race against time, with Georgia vegetables and the New York market with its prices for fresh garden truck as the prize, with more than ordinary interest.

The test achieves almost a sporting aspect as the men plan for the trip. The truck, an ordinary stock truck, will go out fitted with new tires and after a careful inspection of all mechanical parts. The number of drivers has not been determined. It is possible that as many as three will take turns at the wheel.

Macklin, who conceived the idea, is a former truck farmer in New Jersey who believed that the new field in Georgia. His truck farm, with many acres under glass, represents latest ideas in that line of agriculture.

AL CAPONE REPORTED VISITOR IN VALDOSTA

Famous Gunman Believed To Have Spent Night in Georgia Town.

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 19.—A rumor that "Scarface" Al Capone, widely-known racketeer, gangster and gunman, spent last night in a Valdosta hotel was not fully substantiated today.

A man and woman, registering as man and wife from a city in Pennsylvania, en route to Florida, were among the guests at the hotel. Persons who claim to know Capone declared the visitor was he. The couple left early today.

SEARCH IN PROGRESS THROUGHOUT SOUTHEAST.
Search rivaling a man-hunt for a murderer was quietly in progress throughout the southeast tonight for Alphonse (Scarface) Capone, notorious Chicago beer baron, recently liberated from a concealed weapon sentence in Philadelphia.

The harassed racketeer, wherever he may be, faced arrest on sight if he entered the state of Florida, whence he was believed speeding by circuitous route for a "welcome home" jamboree at his white-walled palace on Starr Island, Miami.

Unnumbered developments widely scattered in the lower right hand corner of the United States today strange, but not surprising, concerned a stamp. Some were not so strange, however, but all seemed naturally to fall into the category of a gangster fleeing to refuge from threats of death.

Chief among those developments was the receipt of a telegram by Sheriff W. B. Cahoon, of Duval county, Jacksonville, Fla., bearing the signature of "Doyle E. Carlton, Governor of Florida," and reading:

It is reported that Al Capone is on way to Florida. Arrest promptly if he comes your way and escort to state border with instructions not to return. He cannot remain in Florida. If you need additional assistance, call me.

That put an official damper on a report from Miami Beach that a bakery there was simmering up a "36-inch cake" to be the piece de resistance at a swaggar banquet for Capone on Starr Island tonight. There was no apparent official confirmation of the cake report, but it quickly fell into a Caponeque slot.

Negro Farmer Offers 'God's' Acre Land To His Own People

LUTHERSVILLE, Ga., March 19.—A large number of representative colored citizens met in a quarterly conference in Clark Methodist Episcopal church here, and after carefully considering the situation facing the rural colored people in this section unanimously adopted the "God's Acre" plan as a means of supporting their church this year. They also proposed to use it as a means of stimulating a greater interest on the part of the boys of the community in better farming.

The meeting adopted the "Mill's plan," so-called because it was first suggested to the district superintendent by Oscar Mills, of the Southeastern Fair Association, of Atlanta, which carries with it the idea of purchasing an acre of land for the church and dedicating the crop to the service of the Lord. Ernest Foster and Joseph McGee, two farm members of the church, were appointed a committee to secure the land.

Joseph Wortham, a successful colored farmer, agreed to put at the disposal of the congregation the land needed this year. Included in their program is to have an effort to get every negro boy in the community to interest himself in the working of an acre of corn or cotton looking towards the Southeastern Fair this fall. The meeting expressed the belief that a church situated in a community should encourage habits of thrift and industry. Rev. D. H. Stanton, the district superintendent, declared he was happy over the success of the meeting.

GOV. HARDMAN HOME AFTER SHORT VACATION

State Executive Spends Day Fishing Before Leaving Valdosta for Atlanta.

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 19.—For the first time in about three or four years, Governor L. G. Hardman spent a day fishing at his country estate, Lake Alycone, after returning to Valdosta from a short vacation in Florida. He and Mrs. Hardman left this morning for Atlanta and the governor will be at his desk in the capitol Thursday.

Governor Hardman enjoyed his brief vacation very much, and upon reaching Valdosta was anxious to know the Georgia news, saying he had been without information regarding affairs in the state since he went into Florida.

Governor Hardman was much amused when told of the recent story printed in the state, pointing out that it should be Senator Walter F. George be named to the United States court bench the governor would resign, making President Cecil Neil, of the senate, acting governor, and that Mr. Neil would in turn appoint Governor Hardman as senator to succeed Senator George. The governor laughed heartily and said that he had not heard of it before.

He admitted that there was already some interest being manifested in Georgia over the appointment of a senator should there be a vacancy. While in Florida one aspirant for the prospective vacancy called upon him in regard to the matter.

Governor and Mrs. Hardman left Valdosta Wednesday morning for Atlanta and the governor will be in the executive office ready for business Thursday morning.

Georgia Land Bought By U. S. Government In 1857 To Be Sold

BRUNSWICK, Ga., March 19.—Naval City, a tract of 1,000 acres on Blythe Island, near here, which once was expected to become a naval base of the United States government, is to be sold shortly.

Under authorization granted by congress several years ago, bids will be received by the judge advocate of the navy until 2 p. m. April 15 at which time they will be opened.

The Naval City was acquired by the navy department in 1857. The property, of which 480 acres are high land and the remainder marshes, is only about three miles from Brunswick. Reports here are that a delegation of high naval officials visited the state many years ago, reporting its location as ideal for a naval base. No base has ever been established and no use ever has been made of the site by the government, except that a quantity of timber was cut on the island several years ago.

MORE YORK, WHITE PAYMENTS REVEALED

Testimony Tuesday, by Carling L. Dinkler, hotel chain owner, was that he paid White $40,000 for services in connection with the leasing of the old city hall property at Forsyth and Marietta and plans for developing the site. Hugh Richardson, wealthy realty operator, testified that he paid White $15,000 for services in connection with securing an appropriation of $10,000 for tearing down or cutting off a building at North avenue and West Peachtree to make way for the widening of West Peachtree.

As Wednesday's session drew to a close, an effort on the part of the state to force White to produce checks of the White Chemical Company and with defeat where Judge John L. Humphries ruled that the co-defendant could not be required to discover evidence that might tend to criminate himself. The state then moved for the checks, and Judge Humphries' ruling followed the announcement by Attorney Walter A. Sims, Jr., that the checks, which White refused to produce, were in the hands of the state.

Testimony of Frank A. Pittman, who has been in the construction business for more than 40 years, Wednesday opened with the question: "Have you done work for the A. C. Rhodes estate?" "Yes," the witness replied. "Q. Mr. Rhodes owned property on Hunter street?" "Yes."

"Q. This property was adjusted when the viaducts were built?" "Yes, the floors were remodeled. Q. It is about the viaducts?" "Yes, Hunter street. Q. What was the effect on the grade of Hunter street?"

"A. The grade was raised six feet, cutting the first story of the building in half. Q. The building was altered or rearranged?"

"A. Yes. Q. You did the work?" "Yes. Estimate sent to Council. Q. Did you set up an estimate as to the damage?"

"A. Yes. Q. This estimate was sent to general council?" "Yes. It was sent to council in November, 1928, and was referred to the bridge committee, and then referred to the claims committee. The claims committee said it would wait and get all the claims before it would see how much was needed."

The witness testified that in January of 1929 the city construction department made an estimate somewhat lower than his estimate, $3,000 lower, and that this estimate was made by City Engineer Kaufmann, the city estimate being $7,040, where the Rhodes estimate was $10,744.05. Q. It was Mr. Kaufmann's function to make up the damages?"

"A. I don't know. Q. Is he the man it was referred to?" "Yes, and it was approved by Mr. Hunsell (then chief of construction). Q. What was done with those two estimates?"

"A. Mr. Rhodes' estate got its payment on May 27, 1929. Had Agreement With York. Q. Did you have an arrangement and an agreement with York?"

"Q. Tell about that in detail. A. In February of 1929, I went to Mr. York's office and laid the matter before him. Mr. Rhodes had employed lawyers to press it to a conclusion. I advised Mr. Rhodes that this was not the proper way to handle it, and asked him to let me handle it. I told York that it was expected that the attorney fees would be $500, and asked him if it would embarrass him to get it through for $500. He said, 'No. I do not know that Mr. York did anything.'"

The witness explained that a proposal to compromise the claim for $5,000 was made to the city on agreement with Mr. Rhodes. The questioning continued: Q. What amount of money did you pay York?"

"A. I gave him a check for $425, payable to Jack White. Q. Who told you to make it payable to White?" "A. York. York went to his office. Questioning by the solicitor brought out that the city settled the claim on May 27, and the check was given to York on July 2. Q. Where did you see York and give him the check?"

"A. He came to my office. He said that the matter had been settled. I told him I did not think he was entitled to $500, as the full amount of the claim was not paid, due to the compromise. He agreed that the amount should be $500. Q. The check was indorsed on the back by Jack White and the Atlanta Tribune?"

Here the defense objected, stating that the evidence did not show the Tribune to be connected with the case. Mr. Boykin then put the question another way: Q. Did you get any service from the Atlanta Tribune?"

The defense interposed objection again. "I will allow you to ask the witness if he had any negotiations with Mr. White or the Tribune," Judge Humphries ruled.

The question was then put as directed by the court. "Advertising" Was Solicited. The witness replied: "Yes, Mr. York and Mr. White asked me to take an advertisement."

Q. You were in connection with the adjustment of the property?" "A. No. The solicitor remarked that the Tribune's alleged connection with the check might be relevant on the ground that it was a means of disguising the transaction. Mr. Howard declared that the fact that the check was indorsed by the Tribune and the defendant solicited an advertisement might tend to show conspiracy. Judge Humphries asked the witness: "How long after this was it that they came to get the advertisement?"

The witness said: "Just before the first issue." Judge Humphries ruled: "I will exclude this as immaterial because it does not appear who owned the Tribune." The direct examination was renewed: Q. You delivered the check in person at your office?"

"A. Yes. At my office, 205 Rhodes building. Q. Did you take a voucher or a receipt?"

"A. No. I merely made out the check. I did not handle the voucher from the city to the estate. Sims Cross-Examined. Mr. Sims took the witness for cross-examination: Q. You say that you went to Mr. York about this matter?"

"A. Yes. Q. When?" "A. During January or February of 1929. Q. Had the building then been remodeled and completed?"

"A. No. Q. When was it remodeled and completed?" "A. The tenth of March. Q. How much did it cost?"

"A. $14,000. Q. You received from the city $8,500?" "A. Yes. Q. You were a member of council at one time?"

"A. Yes. Q. You went to see Mr. York in his capacity as a city officer to get his help?" "A. Yes. Q. Didn't he tell you that he could get a man to represent you?"

"A. No. Q. Didn't he tell you that he would get Mr. White to represent you?" "A. No. I didn't know Mr. White at that time."

"Q. Didn't he tell you when you gave him the check that Mr. White had handled the matter?" "A. No. No 'Bribe' Intended. Q. You didn't intend to bribe a man?"

"A. No, sir. I just intended to get some action. Q. You know that if you bribe a man you are just as guilty as he is?"

"A. Yes. Judge Humphries: I will exclude that as an opinion of the witness. Q. You were offered immunity?"

"Q. Didn't the solicitor-general tell you that you would get immunity, and didn't you see that in the newspapers?" "A. I saw it in the papers. The first time I went before the grand jury it didn't amount to anything. I went back after White's books were gotten by the grand jury."

"Q. Do you know if Mr. York got any of the money?" "A. No. If Mr. York was working for Mr. White on a salary there would not be anything wrong— Boykin: Objection. Judge Humphries: Sustained. C. A. Pittman Takes Stand. After a brief recess Mr. Pittman was recalled to the stand, and said that he had been before the city claims committee before he saw York, and that he never went before the committee again after that. The testimony of Cecil A. Pittman, construction man, opened with the witness' answer that he had the contract to pave Courtland street. Mr. Boykin called the direct-examination, as follows: Q. When did you finish the job?"

"A. I don't know. A. I can look at the record. Q. You state approximately?" "A. No. You see, I do so much."

"Q. Did you have a vibro-lithic charge?" "A. Yes. Q. When was that paid?" "A. After the general contract, I think. Q. About how long?"

"A. I couldn't remember only from the books. A month or two months, maybe. Q. You filed a claim for the vibro-lithic service?"

"A. I made a statement to the street committee that I understood that the city was to pay for the vibro-lithic service. Q. You made a claim for it?"

"A. Yes. Q. Did you get a check for it?" "A. I think so. Q. Is this the check? (The check was for $3,164.85.)

"A. Yes. Q. Did you get the money?" "A. Yes. Q. How did you get the money?"

"A. Yes. Q. What did you give Mr. York at the Franklin and Cox corner?" "A. I let Mr. York have $1,000 at the corner of Alabama and Whitehall. Q. To your best recollection did it come out of this check?"

"A. Yes. Q. Where did you get the money?" "A. Out of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank. First Met at City Hall. Q. When did you first see him?"

"A. We met at the city hall. Q. How did you get to the bank?" "A. We walked from the city hall. Q. What did Mr. York do when he got to the bank?"

"A. He went in with me and came out with me. Q. Where did you put the money?" "A. I held it in my hand—it was 10 bills of $100 each. Q. Where did you go to deliver it?"

"A. The same corner the bank is on. Q. How long was it after you got the money?"

"A. I don't know. Q. How long was it after you got the money?" "A. I don't know. Q. How long was it after you got the money?"

At the left are pictured Harry York, sitting, and Mr. Sims, standing. Jack White, confident of the acquittal of his business associate, is seen at the right in playful mood as he left the courthouse. "Mr. Sims: Objection. The witness hasn't said that he paid York on this account. Judge Humphries: Did you get the city check before or after you paid York?"

"A. I couldn't remember without the record. It was near the finish of the job or afterward. Q. What did you charge this $1,000 up to?"

"A. The check was charged to me personally. "Loan" to York. During this portion of the testimony, books were produced. The witness was asked about an entry of October 24, and was asked to what it was charged. Objection was made, and the solicitor asked, "What did you do with this money?"

The witness replied: "I think that is the $1,000 I loaned to Mr. York." Mr. Sims began cross-examination: Q. On October 22, you got the money?"

"A. Yes. Q. York got the money two days afterward?" "A. Yes. Q. Did you ever offer or give him a bribe?"

Questioned by Mr. Boykin under direct examination, Mr. Richardson said that he had paid White for other services previously but he was unable to give details. He said he would produce the checks given White in payment if he could find them. C. F. Palmer, president of Palmer, Inc., a witness of Tuesday, was recalled to submit copies of the two proposals made by his concern for the lease of the old city hall site. The proposals had been turned down by the city in favor of the proposal by Carling L. Dinkler, hotel owner, to pay $800,000 for a 45-year lease. Dinkler testified Tuesday that he paid White $6,500 for services in connection with the lease and plans to develop the property. John A. Manget, real estate operator, was called to the stand after Mr. Palmer. Mr. Boykin questioned Mr. Manget regarding his former ownership of the North avenue and West Peachtree property now owned by Mr. Richardson. this money is no more than the statement of Doherty and Sinclair that the little black bag with $100,000 in it was just a loan. The check to York was given until the identical day he got the money from the city. The record shows that the entire contract had been closed out, and that the vibro-lithic matter was in abeyance. Boykin Charges Conspiracy. Judge Humphries: If admissible, it would be on the ground that they are co-conspirators. Mr. Boykin: That's exactly what I'm getting at. This gentleman on the stand can testify as to the declaration of Pittman regarding what he had to do to get this money. The declaration was made before this crime was consummated by the passing of this money, and was then pending, and there was a conspiracy existing between York and Pittman whereby York was to profit to the extent of $1,000 by getting through council this particular adjustment in abeyance since August, from August to October. The declaration of this man as to what his intention was, for what he had drawn the money, it seems to me, is relevant as illustrating intent and motive. Judge Humphries: Let me see what the testimony would be. Q. What did he tell you the day before?"

"A. Well, it was about a certain man's house, and I asked him to tell it all. State what he said. Q. Refresh your memory. Didn't he say: 'I hope that ends this matter'?"

"A. Something like that. Judge Humphries: Did he make a statement of what he did with the $1,000?"

"Q. Did he say anything about what he had done with the $1,000?" "A. No. I knew what he had done in getting it, but I don't know the city hall? Where is your office?"

"A. On Whitehall street. Q. Was there a communication between Pittman and York about where they would meet?"

"A. No. Mr. Boykin refreshed the witness' memory with a statement which the solicitor said the witness had made to the grand jury. Judge Humphries: What did he say?"

"A. He said: 'I've got to give Harry York $1,000 to get this other check. I'll have to put out $1,000 to get it beside this paying done for Graham West.'"

"Q. What did he say when he came back to the automobile?" "A. Let's get down to brass tacks. Read those two lines (pointing to a portion of the statement before the grand jury)."

"Mr. Sims: The witness doesn't know that he said that. Mr. Boykin: I can prove it. Q. How long was it between the time you saw him and the time the contracts went through?"

"A. Two weeks. Q. What was said between you and White

HAD PRACTICALLY ABANDONED HOPE, SAYS MRS. HENSON

Troubles of Fifteen Years' Standing Brought To Happy End by New Sargon, Declares Atlanta Woman.

"I've taken fourteen bottles of Sargon and am in better health than I have been in years," recently declared Mrs. H. J. Henson, Route 5, Atlanta.

MRS. H. J. HENSON.

more than fifteen years, and at times I had very bad spells with my stomach, but somehow I managed to keep going until about sixteen months ago I came down then with a terrible case of the flu, and for nearly six months I spent most of my time in bed. I just couldn't get my strength back and I lost a lot of weight. I had no appetite, and the little I ate disagreed with me. No one ever suffered more from terrible headaches than I did; my liver was sluggish, I had severe dizzy spells, my complexion and eyeballs were yellowish, and there were liver spots all over my face. In addition to all these things, I suffered from constipation practically all my life; my kidneys seemed disordered ever since that attack of flu, my back ached frightfully all the time; my right leg and ankle were badly swollen, and my sufferings were so great they seemed unbearable. I slept miserably—often I'd not close my eyes all night, and I never slept before midnight. I'd taken so many medicines and treatments without results that I'd about given up hope, but there was so much in the papers about Sargon, and the way it was benefiting people right here in this city, that I decided to try it.

"Before I'd finished the first bottle of this wonderful medicine I began to feel its good effects, and I'm now so greatly improved that I hardly know myself. If there's anything wrong with my stomach and kidneys I don't know it. I have a good appetite, eat what I want and digest it. I haven't a trace of the old stomach troubles. Those terrible pains in my back have disappeared, and my leg and ankle are not swollen like they were. My whole system seems strengthened, I've regained my lost weight and I sleep wonderfully. I do my housework now and enjoy it. I took Sargon Soft Mass Pills right along with the tonic and I never expect to be without them in my home. They relieved me of constipation, stimulated my liver to perfect action and I haven't had a headache or dizzy spell since taking them. My complexion and eyes have cleared up and the liver spots are nearly all gone from my face."

"I'm very thankful and happy too for all this wonderful medicine has done for me, and I'll always be glad to pass the good word along."

The Sargon Man is at Jacobs' Main Store, 45 North Broad St., Grant Bldg., where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this celebrated new scientific product. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

NEW PRODUCE MARKET MASTER IS APPOINTED

Sears, Roebuck & Co. Names C. H. Bishop To Manage Project.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of C. H. Bishop as market master of the new produce market to be opened by Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Mr. Bishop is well known in agricultural and marketing circles in this state and is thoroughly familiar with the marketing problems of the farmers of this section.

Mr. Bishop was born in Oconee county, Georgia, and spent his boyhood on the farm. He is a graduate of Emory university and has made a special study of agriculture at the University of Georgia.

He served as superintendent of the public schools of Ashburn for a period of 10 years. While serving in that capacity he devoted his time during the summer months to aiding the farmers of that section in the marketing of their products.

From 1927 to 1929 he was director of the state bureau of markets. He left that post to join the organization of the Georgia Dairy Products, from which position he came to Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Mr. Bishop stated that as market master of the new market, he expects to devote his entire time and efforts to the marketing of the products of the small growers of this vicinity in the marketing of their products.

L. H. Beall, general manager of the Atlanta region of Sears, Roebuck & Co., who confirmed the appointment of Mr. Bishop, stated, "We feel that we are very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Bishop to fill the position. It's a real task and requires a man with a thorough knowledge of the problems of the farmers in growing their crops as well as difficulties of profitable marketing of their products."

Mr. Bishop expects to work with the county agents of the nearby counties and other agricultural experts in working out the final plans for the market. Actual work has commenced on the market building and it is planned to have the market in operation by May 1.

Georgia's automobile license tags for 1931, the manufacture of which will begin April 1, again will carry a message of health to the people of the state, it was announced Wednesday by Dr. T. F. Abernethy, head of the state board of health.

Through the courtesy of George H. Carwell, secretary of state, the envelopes in which the 1930 tags were delivered contained an enclosure of health literature.

While the card enclosure regarding birth registration will be used again, the health department also was accorded the courtesy by Mr. Carwell of utilizing the sheet of paper inserted in the large envelope between the tags to prevent rubbing. Until this issue of the tags, a sheet of oil paper has been used. In 1931, however, the sheet will be printed, one side relating to malaria and how to combat it and the other to pellagra.

"These are Georgia's outstanding health problems," said Dr. Abernethy, "and we are most grateful to Mr. Carwell for permitting us to make use of this excellent means of distribution. His spirit of co-operation and co-ordination of the state's means of reaching the people are most commendable."

Five hundred thousand copies of each will be printed and the first consignment of 100,000 will be delivered this week to the state farm.

Milkman Gives Alarm, Families Flee Flames

A milkman sounded an alarm in the small hours of Wednesday morning which probably saved the life of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Arnold, of 429 North Highland avenue, N. E., when their apartment caught fire from defective wiring. Neighbors were aroused by the shout of the milkman who saw the smoke pouring from the Arnold apartment and they in turn awakened the couple imperiled by the flames. Other occupants of the apartment house fled to the street in their night clothing but quick work on the part of firemen from engine company No. 12 halted the fire before serious damage could be done. The Arnold apartment was damaged severely and slight damage was done to another directly beneath, occupied by K. K. Moore.

Southern Bank Management Conference Here Next Week

Financial Leaders of Section Will Be in Atlanta for Brief Business Session.

Bank officials from financial institutions of the southeast will gather in Atlanta next Tuesday, March 25, for a two-day southern bank management conference to be held at the Biltmore hotel, according to announcement Wednesday by Ronald Ransom, vice president of the Fulton National bank and general chairman of the conference. With morning, afternoon and night sessions, the two days will be devoted entirely to a business program with the keynote of the conference announced for "better bank management." Prominent bankers and experts on various banking phases are scheduled to speak at the conference. In an advance announcement of the southern bank management conference sent out by F. W. Simmonds, secretary commission on banking practices, American Bankers' Association, New York, and secretary of the conference to be held here, stated: "The prime purpose of this conference is to study at first hand the best ments in banking practice and through mutual counsel and co-operation to develop a new effectiveness in bank management, thereby placing the entire banking profession upon a plane of increased efficiency, maximum service and larger earnings."

Madison To Preside. Robert F. Madison, of the First National bank and past president of the American Bankers' Association, will preside over the sessions. He will call the assembly to order at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, when objectives of the gathering will be outlined by H. N. Stronck, of H. N. Stronck Company, Chicago.

The sessions will be divided into one on loan administration, one on profit producing policies, investment policies and bank administration and management. In addition to these, there will be special talks during luncheon and dinner sessions.

In addition to the list of speakers on specific banking problems, the program calls for an address by Eugene R. Black, governor of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, at the 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday night, and by Harry J. Haas, of Philadelphia, vice president of the American Bankers' Association, at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday.

Atlanta bankers in charge of program arrangements for the conference are J. S. Kennedy, vice president of the First National bank, chairman; Carl H. Lewis, vice president Citizens and Southern National bank, and Haynes McFadden, secretary Georgia Bankers' Association.

A COLUMN of the CAPITOL

By Harold Stephens

The old-fashioned farmer with a will to work and a determination to make both ends meet no matter what the obstacles, is not dead in Georgia yet. Witness a letter received at the state department of agriculture:

"I sent you an ad for the Market Bulletin for an ox to plow. Mules are too high. I simply refuse to mortgage my crop and all other possessions to get a mule. The wife, with the help of the kids, can plow the ox and we can feed him grass and part of our meal mush. We have to eat and stay out of debt."

Possible compassion for the fate of guinea pigs to be fed Jamaica ginger by the state board of health in its search for the source of the strange paralysis current in the south is inspired verse-making at the capitol.

In Praise of a Guinea Pig. Of the ginger of Jamaica A pig was bidden to partake o'— Of science for the sake o'— Make a bit of gin whoopee!

Chorus. All hail this pig's devotion! Hail this courage in proportion— Risk of loss of locomotion! That Jamaica shall be safer For the likes o' you and me! Not the pig's to bid defiance To a mandate of science! But to hasten in compliance For the sake o' you and me! In this martyr-like oblation The pig proceeded with elation— (Grew drunk and drunker to negation In a scientific spree! Lay in paralytic leisure, While the doctors took the measure Of the causes of his seizure, Through curiosity! Chorus, etc.

And by way of postscript: But I've a sneaking notion: About this pig devoid of motion: What the hell is locomotion To a jag on ginger tea? When, this state of joy attaining, One could stay through life remaining Simply from the use of limbs re-training— Who wouldn't linger with the ginger? Not the likes o' you and me!

Curious among the possessions of Judge Hal Walker, of the industrial commission, is a watch manufactured in England in 1786. Almost 150 years old, the watch runs as well today as a modern timepiece. The watch came to Judge Stanley in the will of the late Thomas Jopp, of LaVern county.

Fifth Ward League Will Meet Tonight

A special musical program followed by a salad supper will be the feature of the Fifth Ward Civic league's semi-monthly meeting to be held in the auditorium of the English Avenue school at 7:30 o'clock tonight, according to an announcement of Mrs. Laura West, secretary. The Electrical Workers' quartet will sing on the program and the salad supper is to be served in the basement of the school immediately following the business session.

Buck Paid Tribute By Masonic Club

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buck were honor guests at the Wednesday meeting of the Atlanta Masonic Club, with a farewell tribute paid to the member of the club who leaves shortly with his family for Los Angeles. The message of regret was delivered by Julian Boehm in behalf of the Masonic Club.

Judge Thomas H. Jefferies, ordinary, appeared as principal speaker for the weekly session. He talked on the "Importance of Personal Effort." Short talks were made by George Eubanks and Claude Hughes. Entertainment features were furnished by Miss Elizabeth Harless, dancer, and Miss Julia Boyd, vocalist. Raymond Daniels had charge of the program and President B. C. Broyles presided.

National 'Jaycee' President Coming

Herbert F. McCulla, of Lincoln, Neb., national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest of the local Junior Chamber organization April 7. It was announced here Wednesday. Mr. McCulla is on a trip which will take him over a large section of the United States and he will visit approximately 100 junior chamber groups. Special plans are being made for his entertainment here, which will be featured by the regular monthly night meeting of the Junior Chamber "Krazy Klub."

Forestry Congress Scheduled for June

The first commercial forestry congress in Georgia will be held at Savannah June 2, 3 and 4. It was announced Wednesday by T. Guy Woolford, president of the Georgia Forestry Association.

The forestry congress will be in line with the educational policy of organized forestry work. Mr. Woolford stated. Mr. Woolford said that there are 6,000,000 acres of unproductive forests in the state. Although southern timber, especially Georgia timber, now dominates the eastern markets, the industry will suffer if reforestation and protection of timber is not undertaken, he said.

City Tax Assessors Warn of Deadline

Tax assessors of the borough of Atlanta Wednesday issued a warning to citizens that tax returns must be filed in the office not later than Saturday.

An extension was granted a week ago because of the large crowds who flooded the offices and the inability of the department to meet the demands made upon it.

J. C. Little, W. A. Hancock and Harry M. Perkinson compose the board of assessors. A penalty is assessed unless taxes are returned before the books are closed officially.

Detroit Police Head Stops in Atlanta

En route home after vacationing a short time in Florida, Commissioner William Rutledge, head of the Detroit police department and "father of the police radio system," was a visitor in Atlanta Wednesday and Wednesday night. At the Piedmont hotel early Wednesday night he declined an interview, saying that he "and Mrs. Rutledge are tired and need rest." They were to have left early this morning for Detroit.

Don Plans To Try for New World's Speed Record This Afternoon

HEAVY RAINS GIVE CRACKERS FULL DAY OFF

Say It Ain't So, Zipp!—Tagging All the Bases in Southern League Camps

What is baseball coming to? The other day Zip Newman, of the Birmingham News, went out to Rickwood park and took a poll of player opinion on Manager Clyde Milan's policy of one workout per day instead of two.

Greatly to his surprise, he discovered that EVERY player in camp FAVORED the plan. To make his poll authentic he quoted Bob Hasty, Ray Caldwell, Dick Ludolph and Ray Francis on the subject.

It is a sad parody on modern baseball that players prefer one workout per day in spring training to two. Why, back when Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker and Hans Wagner and Hal Chase and Eddie Collins and the rest were coming along they groused like fury if the manager did not permit them to work twice every day.

In more recent times, players like Hollis McLaughlin, Jim Bagby and Joe Jenkins have sobbed bitterly at not being allowed to practice morning and afternoon. Bert Niehoff will bear me out in this statement. He just couldn't make those boys take it easy.

To show how far the game has gone to the dogs, Ray Francis himself once walked up to Dan Michalove here and demanded his release because he was not allowed to practice twice a day.

And yet we find Ray Francis now quoted by Brother Newman as saying: "One practice a day takes a lot of the grind out of spring training. I have always said if I ever managed a ball club it would only take one practice a day."

Mark my words, such indifference bodes no good to Birmingham. The Barons never will get far if that spirit prevails. I have a mind to wire Ralph McGill in Douglas and have him take a poll of the Crackers.

You'd find that every one of them insists on practicing something twice daily, rain or shine.

MOVE OVER, FELLOW!

Jack Steel, Little Rock manager, says: "I feel that I can take a club into Little Rock that is a dead certainty to make first division and there is also a strong possibility that we will be able to land first place."

Daily it appears that first division in the Southern league will be seriously congested.

MIGHT BE, AT THAT.

"The best outfield in the Southern league" already has been discovered in Douglas, Ga., Birmingham, Memphis and New Orleans.

Now it has been found in Chattanooga. Joe Engel says that with "Spark Plug" Matthews dropped in the pasture between Elliott Bigelow and Sammy Vick he will have it.

The odd part of Joe's statement is that it sounds almost convincing.

A SEASON RECORD.

The Vols played their first exhibition game St. Patrick's Day. Not a home run was hit over the short right field fence.

OLD FRIENDS.

It is not exactly a club of debutantes that Jimmy Hamilton has collected at Mobile.

The Bears played the other day with the following men in action: Reb Russell, first base; Dutch Hoffman, second base; Johnny Chapman, shortstop; Jerry Standaert, third base; Emmet Mulvey, left field; Otto Dumas, center field; Dutch Welch, right field; Dewey Hill, catcher; Axel Lindstrom, pitcher.

GOOD NEWS OF HARD TIMES.

Six thousand people paid to see the Chick regulars and yannigans play a practice game in Memphis. Tom Watkins is putting a few nickels into the till while paying out bed and board money for his 35 noble athletes.

BEARING DOWN.

Frank Waddey, once a Tech star, now a newlywed, is swinging a heavy bat trying to win a Memphis outfield berth. The old urge to make good in a big way is there now.

THE BIGGER GAME.

That eminent hunter of foxes and fables, John G. Dobbs, already has supplied decorations for the masts in parks at New Orleans, Memphis and Birmingham.

Now he is hunting for a pennant to raise on the flagpole in center field at Spiller's lot. And no red fox that ever flashed through aisles of pine can stir the pulse of John G. Dobbs like the flitting vision of a red and blue pennant waving against the sky.

HOME TOWN BOY MAKES GOOD.

At least one graduate of Kid Elberfeld's baseball school is creating a stir in the ranks this spring. "Power House" Hammond, the Atlanta boy, who touched up his game with a course here in the first school, now is the big noise in the rookie section at Douglas. They say Hammond is not more than a year away from a Southern league job.

Waycross Finishes Spring Grid Work

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 19.—The Waycross High School Bulldogs have concluded a two weeks' spring football practice season, under the direction of Coach Joe Matthews, revealing that there is a promising group of youngsters who will bid for berths on the varsity this fall.

Coach Matthews announces that the schedule for the coming year already is practically completed.

"Duh" Murray is captain-elect, succeeding "Tootie" Fason, who has played his last season with the Bulldogs.

Shires Threatens To Turn Semi-Pro

DALLAS, Texas, March 19.—(AP)—Art Shires, holdout firstsacker of the Chicago White Sox, has issued an ultimatum. Unless a better offer than the $7,000 contract tendered him early in the season is forthcoming in a week the bad boy of baseball threatens to play semi-pro ball, either in Chicago or in the Rio Grande valley.

At his home in Italy, Texas, Shires said he had received a number of attractive propositions from semi-professional clubs.

BRITISH RACER PLANS RECORD DASHES TODAY

Runs To Be Made This Afternoon If Weather Is Okay.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—Continued rain and indications of more unfavorable weather late tonight caused Ray Don to abandon his plan to drive his "Silver Bullet" over the Daytona course at daybreak tomorrow in an attempt to set a new world speed record.

He said that he would drive late in the afternoon, however, weather permitting.

Don is impatient over delays, his nerves are on edge, and he is plainly anxious to get about his business of breaking records.

Today was a painful disappointment. The day broke clear and hopes of good conditions were high. Don conferred with his manager and with race officials and then announced he would go out on the afternoon tide, make one preliminary run and then try for the record. He clung to the plan even after the skies clouded at noon and friends began urging him not to attempt a drive today. Finally, however, he gave in when rain began falling in torrents. The rain continued most of the afternoon.

C. C. Cummins, who has a Diesel engine car here as a side show, announced he would take advantage of the absence of Don from the beach and would perform with his car. He went to the beach, parked his car at the starting line and remained there more than an hour vainly waiting for the rain to abate. Cummins had to give up.

Mechanics took advantage of the afternoon to do additional work on Don's car, which, some experts believe, is still in need of adjustment if it is to set a record.

SAUER TO MEET FOX MARCH 25

Former Masked Marvel Accepts Challenge Hurl-ed at Greeks Here.

CHARLEY FOX, the big, bad man of the wrestling racket, has been pestering Henry Weber, promoter, for a chance to bend the back of some Greek. Any Greek grappler he could get, according to the weekly bulletin from Fox. No Greek could be found. But Pete Sauer, once the Masked Marvel, and always a favorite enemy of gripe and groans in Atlanta, has volunteered to do or die for dear old Athens. Sauer has accepted on behalf of Greece the challenge of Charley Fox, the tough egg.

This was the substance of advice from Promoter Weber last night as he announced a double headline match for next Tuesday night, March 25, at the auditorium.

"Pete Sauer is not a Greek," explained Promoter Weber. "But he told me that he used to live next door to some Greek and was willing to fight any time for such good neighbors."

Sauer and Fox are booked for a two-hour match. Sauer has won two bouts here recently and Fox has won three.

The other section of the double headline bill will offer Fran Judson, former Harvard wrestling coach, who appeared on the opening card of the match, and Frank Brunowicz, the Polish champion. Both men have won a previous appearance and are certain to put on a fast and furious show.

The usual popular price scale will prevail, the promoter says.

Carnera Has Edge On Zavita Tonight

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—Primo Carnera, 270-pound Italian giant, has been signed for a ten-round bout at the Stockyards stadium here March 28. Jack Kanner, matchmaker of the West Side A. C., announced today.

Kanner said that Chuck Wiggins, who was knocked out by the big Italian at St. Louis Monday night, might be rematched with Carnera, if a suitable opponent cannot be found in the Rocky mountain states.

Signs For Bout.

DENVER, Col., March 19.—(UN)—Primo Carnera, 270-pound Italian giant, has been signed for a ten-round bout at the Stockyards stadium here March 28. Jack Kanner, matchmaker of the West Side A. C., announced today.

Kanner said that Chuck Wiggins, who was knocked out by the big Italian at St. Louis Monday night, might be rematched with Carnera, if a suitable opponent cannot be found in the Rocky mountain states.

Atlantans Leave For Augusta Show

Headed by Hunt Chipley, president of the Atlanta Horse Show Association, a number of local horsemen and horsewomen left Atlanta Wednesday for Augusta to attend the three-day show starting there today. Several Atlantans will exhibit horses, chief among them the Madams and Ocean Breeze, heavy winners at Savannah last week. The horses are owned by J. K. Otter.

Among those going to Augusta are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver, J. K. Otter, Colonel Fitzhugh Lee, general manager of the Atlanta Horse Show; Lawson Kiser, Mrs. Blink Drummond and a number of officers and their wives from Fort McPherson.

GOOD GOLF

Chas. Horton GOLF'S GREATEST TEACHER

In the swing of a golf club the head of the club presumably describes a complete and perfect circle—actually an ellipse.

To visualize this, let us say that it is a K or concrete form, such as a wagon wheel tire. Now if you so swung your club that the circular path of the club-head was exactly perpendicular to the plane of the club, you most assuredly would want to swing the club in a straight line through the ball, since doing so should produce a n or absolutely straight b a l l. But in the swing of the golf club we have the factor of an oblique plane to consider. This is the degree of slant from the vertical that your particular circular path takes. Obviously it takes some slant, and whatever the degree of slant it is that defines the oblique plane of your particular swing.

The sketch alongside pictures this oblique plane, the dotted line showing the circular path of the clubhead. In order to hit straight through the ball, as the theory has it, you must disturb your oblique plane at some point, and that obviously would interfere with the ball's projection. Thus we see the idea of hitting straight through, or even trying to, is one of golf's absurdities.

RICHEST RACE SLATED SUNDAY

Handicap at Agua Caliente Pays $140,000 to Winning Stable.

NEW YORK, March 19.—(UN)—The world's richest horse race will take place next Monday when the first Agua Caliente handicap is run at the Los Angeles racetrack. The race, formerly the Coforth handicap, will be worth approximately $140,000, and is open to three-year-olds and upward. The distance is one mile and a quarter.

When the declarations were made March 10, 30 horses remained in the race. The American turf, on that date had to pay $1,000, making a total entrance fee of $1,200.

Victorian, five-year-old son of White Birch II and winner of the Preakness in 1928, has been installed a 2-1 favorite. Formerly owned by Harry Payne Whitney, Victorian is now running in the silks of the Warm stable.

VICTORIAN AT PEAK.

The manner in which Victorian, packing 122 pounds, won a mile and a furlong race against a wet field at Agua Caliente this week has strengthened the belief that the horse is at the peak of his form and ready to join the American horses that have won more than $200,000 in purses.

Victorian's total winnings to date are $153,475 and a victory Sunday would place him among the three leading winners in the American turf. The Agua Caliente appears to be a three-horse race between Victorian, Naishapur and Scimitar. Naishapur is quoted at 5 to 2 and Scimitar at 3 to 1.

SCIMITAR DANGEROUS.

Scimitar is looked upon as more than a furlong race against a wet field with the route and the climate, which is a handicap to some horses from other sections. Scimitar has rested the past two summers in San Diego county and has been pointed for this race.

Among the other probable starters are W. H. O'Connell, Mrs. R. Pollard's filly, winner of the Mardi Gras handicap at New Orleans recently; Hancock stable's Donny; Wild Rose stable's Downgrade; the Richmond stable's Alexander; Pat's; Three D's farm Call Roper; Wilshire stable's Jim Dandy; Baron Long's Hattrick; and A. A. Baron's Wirt G. Bowman.

Chicks Dispose Of Six Players

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 19.—(AP)—The annual reducing process began in earnest at Russwood park today and tabulations at the end of the day showed six players disposed of, all to the Jackson County team. The six are Claude McEwen and Joe Ponzer, catchers; "Lefty" Alexander, pitcher; and Walter Polph, first baseman, from the 1930 "recruit" squad of the Memphis Southern association, club, and Green and Stokes, pitchers, last season with Knoxville, of the South Atlantic association.

Cards Take Over Greensboro Club

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 19.—(AP)—An agreement was reached here today by which the St. Louis Cardinals, owners of the local Piedmont league franchise, will take over the local World War Memorial stadium, municipal sports plant, for a period of five years. The Cardinals are to improve the plant and make it a first-class baseball center.

TED GOODRICH AFTER FIGHT WITH BAKER

Abelson Plans To Bring Carnera Here on April 22.

By Ed Danforth.

Ted Goodrich, the Atlanta Assassin, is sitting serenely in the first-class compartment of the welterweight division today following his spectacular second-round knockout of Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, last year's champion of the world.

The town buzzed yesterday with talk of the thrilling bout that set a mob of Atlantans yelling like mad as the home town boy, known in his grammar school days as Lawrence Corley, stopped the recent champion cold with a series of rights to the chin.

Meanwhile L. C. Warren, Goodrich's manager, had opened negotiations with Max Abelson, matchmaker, for a bout here in April with Sergeant Sammy Baker, the formidable contender. Warren insists he wants to take on Baker first, then demand a match with Jackie Fields, the champion.

SHORTEST ROUTE.

"Ted wants to take the shortest route to a match with the champion," Warren says. "He has fought 106 bouts now, he has been in the ring since 1919 and is no novice. He learned plenty when he lost that decision to Jack Britton over a year ago. And in his last two knockouts of Farmer Joe Cooper and Joe Dundee he learned still more about the game. He cannot learn much by taking soft matches."

Meanwhile the news of Ted Goodrich's mighty right paw is percolating through the fight world. Goodrich will be in demand in a dozen cities for substantial guarantees.

A conservative estimate would put the possible earnings of the Atlanta fighter at $75,000, if he took matches in fight centers with the numerous good welterweights just short of championship caliber. It would be some experience for Goodrich, some say, to show himself throughout the east and middle west and add to his budding reputation.

Besides, demanding matches with a champion is a thankless job. Champions are cautious, especially if the lad who is making the "demand" carries the kick of an artillery mule in his paw.

Which may or may not come under the head of volunteering a lot of advice.

CARNERA BOUT.

While interest in fight affairs is at a sort of peak, attention is turned today toward Jacksonville where Primo Carnera, the giant Italian, fights a push-over of some sort in his eleventh match of the barnstorming tour of America.

Efforts are being made by Max Abelson to book Carnera in Atlanta April 22. Pa. Striking acting for Abelson left here yesterday morning by automobile for Jacksonville and will try to persuade "Good Time" Charley Friedman, Carnera's chief manager, to agree to an Atlanta appearance.

"If I can get Carnera without having to give a mortgage on the Candler building and pay railroad fares from Los Angeles or Portland, Maine, for a regiment of managers and trainers," Max Abelson says, "I will build up a preliminary card around the main event to give the fans plenty of action. They are not lasting longer than two rounds with the Italian these days."

LA GORCE OPEN STARTS TODAY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—Neil McIntyre, Indianapolis golfing professional, knocked three off for the difficult La Gorce course today in the first round of the La Gorce open tournament.

McIntyre, who with Harry Hampton, Chicago, was defeated by Cyril Walker, Saddle River, N. J., and Clarence Gamble, Boca Raton, Fla., in the finals of the international four-ball matches in Miami last week, turned in a card of 68 over the 18-hole route. Par is 71.

Robert Smith, Crawford, N. Y., who took first prize in the second largest money tournament in the winter last year, had a 72 for his day's practice in the first round. He is a right hander. An Atlanta barber over on Decatur street had plied Willie's skull with sweet smelling stuff. Yes, sir, Willie was neat.

In Atlanta Willie is a bellboy at the Cecil hotel. He has been there ever since the hotel was built. Probably Willie is the finest bellboy in the world.

There are many stories about his honesty and his loyalty. He has been a Cracker fan since 1912. The height of his happiness was one season when Bert Niehoff gave him a season pass. "Yes, sir, a pass to EVERY game."

"My name ain't Willie Green," said Willie. "The boys just likes to say, 'Heah's Ole Willie Green from New Awleens.' Dat's why dey calls me dat."

"Ball players is all my boys. I likes 'em. You know," said Willie in explanation. "Heah's Ole Willie Green don't like to wait on ball players 'cause dey don't tip so much. But I always tells 'em to call for Willie Green 'cause I sho likes ball players. I don't know why 'tis, but I just does. I jus' natchally likes ball players. I guess dat's all there is to it. I jus' likes 'em. Ain't no reason for it. I jus' does."

"I has foun'," said Willie, "dat being nice to folks is best. I ain't nevuh los' nothin' by bein' nice to ball players."

And don't think for a minute that Willie isn't a real fan and doesn't know his ball players. He came in on the same train that brought Ivy Griffin to Douglas. Willie followed him to the hotel. As they neared the door Willie said, "Ain't dis Mr. Griffin?"

"Sure," said Ivy.

"I knowed you from your walk," said Willie, who hadn't seen Griffin since he played with the Crackers in 1919.

Willie went out to the park and took a seat on a box right behind the pitcher's plate. Nick Dumovich was pitching and Willie likes the big Californian.

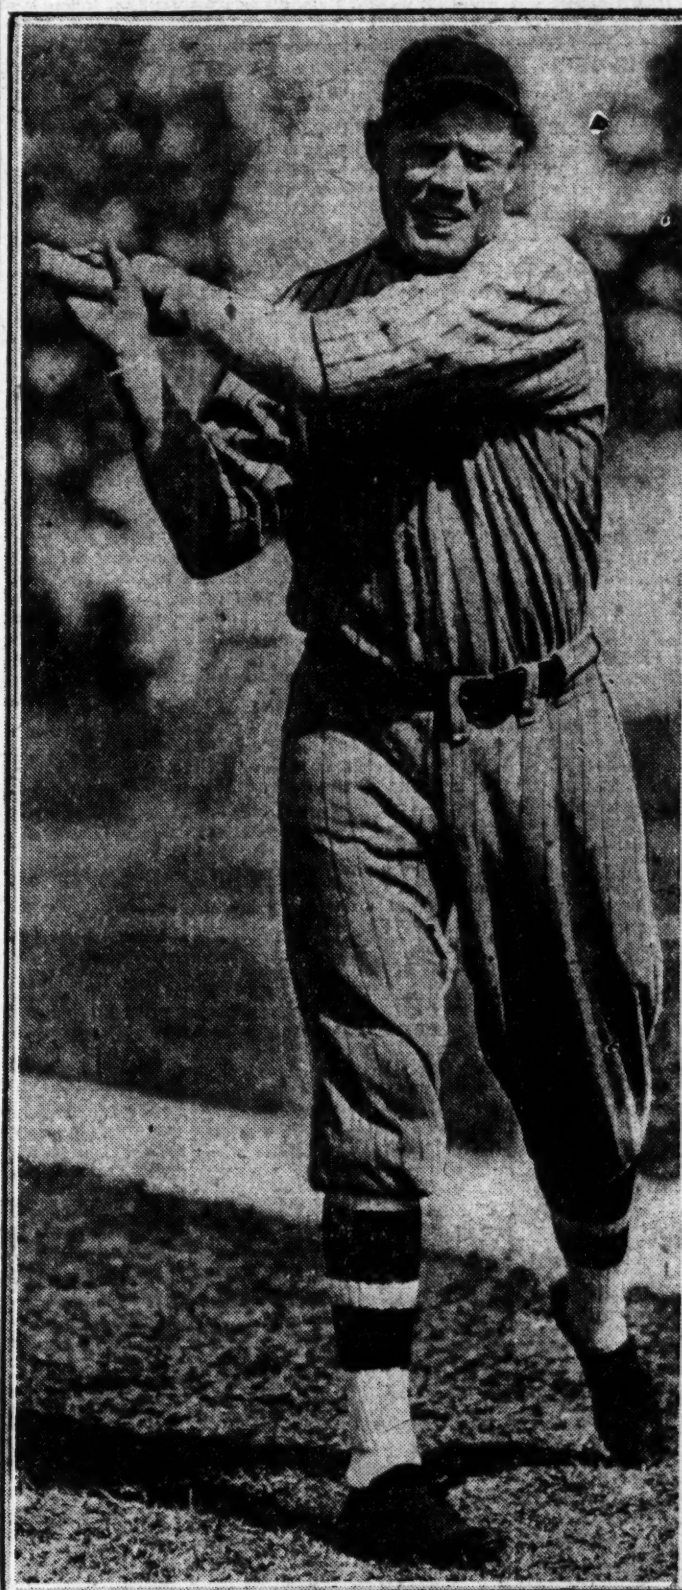

"Hot dog," he said, "them balls sho curves pretty."

Of course Willie was in danger of having his ears knocked back by a foul but he stuck to his seat.

Now and then he hitched his feet up off the ground. If there be any among you who were about 14 or 15 years old back, er, ah, say, 15 years ago, it might be possible to recall that

Cracker Bulwark

Willie Green, Bellhop, Wins 'Cracker Fan' Cup

Pays Own Way to Douglas To Gaze in Rapture at Players in Spring Training.

By Ralph McGill.

Constitution Staff Correspondent.

DOUGLAS, Ga., March 19.—Willie Green, perhaps the greatest baseball fan in Atlanta, paid the Cracker camp a visit yesterday.

Willie Green paid his own way to camp. He paid his way all over town. Going out to the park in the afternoon Willie passed a filling station on which there was a sign reading, "Free Ice Water."

"Well, suh, WHAT do you know 'bout dat," said Willie Green. "Sho is the very first thing heah what I has seen free. And it ain't the ice water season."

Willie Green is as black as ebony. His front teeth are gold. His smile is as full of Christian charity as it can be. When he gets around ball players his smile is pure gold.

He wore the shiniest pair of patent leather shoes that mortal man has ever seen. His pants, a dark gray, were pressed to razor-like sharpness in front. His coat was blue and in the breast pocket there was a bright handkerchief. An Atlanta barber over on Decatur street had plied Willie's skull with sweet smelling stuff. Yes, sir, Willie was neat.

In Atlanta Willie is a bellboy at the Cecil hotel. He has been there ever since the hotel was built. Probably Willie is the finest bellboy in the world.

JOHNNY JONES IS SUSPENDED BY MANAGEMENT

Game Is Scheduled Today With Statesboro Team at Douglas.

By Ralph McGill.

Constitution Sports Writer.

DOUGLAS, Ga., March 19.—Three hot workouts were given the Atlanta Crackers today, but they needed only knives and forks to get through them.

Rain fell with a lot of enthusiasm shortly after the squad had donned its baseball bloomers and got out on a field soaked from a night rain. It continued to fall for the remainder of the day, raining out the home game scheduled with the team from Statesboro.

The boys hit the deck this morning and will hit the hay tonight which will be all the hitting practice they will have today. Skies were clearing tonight and indications were that the rain, which has been general throughout the sunny south would end sometime tonight. During the day Manager Johnny Jones and Business Manager Rell J. Spiller got together and decided that there would be no effort made to build for next year beyond the rookie players already on hand.

WANT WINNER.

"All energies will be devoted to winning a winner this season," said Spiller. "I told Jones that there was money waiting for him if he decided he needed another player. We'll devote the youngsters we have for next year and give all our attention to the 1930 team."

Johnny Jones declared that he was unwilling to say whether he needed another player right now or not. John's reason for his unwillingness is a very sound one.

He hasn't the slightest idea what he needs. And won't until the club gets into the toughest exhibition game. "If I find that I need something," he said, "I'll visit some of the major league teams who will be in camp or playing exhibition games in the south and see what I can do." Meanwhile, it seems to me, having read this week's Saturday Evening Post on Wednesday and having nothing else to do, that the Cracker club is very well fortified in every department and should emerge with a first division ball club, also that.

PITCHERS OVERWEIGHT.

Few of the players are in condition as yet. At least three pitchers are overweight and must train off some pounds before their arms come around. The hitters have seen only a few curves.

The rain, which has fallen every day for the past six days, has seriously impaired the progress of the squad. The squad, however, is still ahead of other Southern Association teams so far as spring training goes.

Choosing the four or five rookies who must come in on the squad this year will be a difficult task. Two of them, however, are already set.

Frank Walker, the grey-eyed ringer of destiny, will be one of them; Jack Sheehan, the infielder, will be another.

ONE OF THOSE DAYS.

It being one of those days when a lobby full of folks have been sitting around until they are ready to take a vital interest in a small boy securing a rubber ball against the wall or spend an hour trying to decide whether they will take roast beef or barbecued pork for dinner, one is inclined to let one's fancy roam.

Having peered at the rookies for these many days it seems to me that Leo Bender, the cherry-picking infielder, will do for another rookie, with Bull Rauch and Red Brice as the two rookie pitchers.

This, however, would leave John Jones with two Class A catchers. He would like to develop a Class B man back there.

COMBINATIONS.

This would enable him to carry six Class A pitchers, dropping a B man there. Oh, my, yes, there are other possible combinations. It makes a great game of solitaire, this picking of the rookies and placing them here and there.

Red Brice continues to look like the best of the pitching prospects. He throws a natural "sinker" with his underhand delivery that is hard to beat.

Frank Walker, who played and managed in the Sally league last season, thinks Brice should make a great pitcher if he can control his delivery. Brice seems to have fair control this early in the spring. He was the leading pitcher, both for earned runs and games won, in the New York-Pennsylvania league last season. And that league is not a slow one, not by any means.

Brice has a great pair of shoulders, fine hands and a magnificent frame for pitching.

JONES SUSPENDED.

Johnny Jones, the recalcitrant shortstop, has been indefinitely suspended by the Crackers for failure to report. This was the announcement here this afternoon.

All of this will probably cause Johnny Jones to giggle out loud. He is one of those fortunate who doesn't care if he can control his delivery. He is a great Class A shortstop, but couldn't get along with the Crackers. Jim Battle, who will be with the Crackers this year as a utility man or regular, can field as well, however, and can out-hit him. Jones won't be missed.

There is a game scheduled with the Statesboro team Thursday afternoon. It will be played at 3:30 o'clock if weather permits.

SPARKY ADAMS STARTS RALLY TO BREAK TIE

Pirates, Tampa, Athletics Hand Up Victories in Exhibitions.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—(UN)—Performing like a major league team should, the Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the San Francisco Missions, of the Pacific Coast league, 12 to 1, here today.

For five innings that he was on the mound for the Pirates, French hurled no-run, no-hit ball. In that time his teammates had scored four runs. Then the Pirates came to the aid of a slightly weaker pitcher and made eight runs in the last four innings.

The only home run of the day was by Gusie Suhr, Pirate first baseman, but doubles were pounded out by his teammates, Hensley and Boel. Pittsburgh 12, Missions 1. 13 1 Missions.....000 000 000 1 4 French, Spencer and Hensley, Boel; Lieber, Green and Brunsell.

Homer Features.

PENACOLA, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—Recruit Catcher Bob Asby's homer over the left field fence, which is 508 feet from plate, featured today's game between the Boston Red Sox first and second teams. The scrubs won, 5 to 3.

Captain Arrives.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—Fresco Thompson, captain and second baseman of the Phillies, arrived here today and joined his teammates during the fifth inning of the Detroit-Philadelphia game.

He has not signed a contract but expressed hope he and Manager Burt Shotton would come to terms.

Collins Injured.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—Bob Collins, of Pittsburgh, the semi-pro catcher trying out for the Boston Braves, may find his injury in Tuesday's game with the Yankees a costly one. He had his finger nail torn off by a foul tip and will be on the bench for ten days. Meanwhile, Bill Cronin, the Baltimore recruit, will have an opportunity to step into his shoes and become a big leaguer.

Shires Ignored.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 19.—(UN)—Dutch Henry may win himself a regular berth as a Chicago White Sox pitcher it was indicated here today. It was under Dutch's bat at Indianapolis that Dutch did his best pitching and his work here has been highly satisfactory to the new leader of the Sox, contract pitcher, Nat Schumacher.

Comiskey failed to arouse any comment from White Sox officials here.

Cubs Break Camp.

AVALEN, CALIFORNIA ISLAND, Cal., March 19.—(UN)—After a final workout, the Chicago Cubs have fared well to their 1930 training camp today and sailed for the mainland. They meet Portland of the Pacific Coast league at Los Angeles Thursday and Friday.

A's Beat Reds.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—Two rookies, Eric McNair and Roy Tarr, did the hitting and two veterans, Lefty Grove and Ed Rommel, did the pitching as the Philadelphia Athletics defeated Cincinnati today, 1 to 0. A double by McNair and a single by Tarr produced the world champion's only run in the third. Grove allowed the Reds but two hits in four innings and Rommel gave up but one in five innings. The game was rushed through in an hour and 22 minutes to beat a hard rain.

Brewers Lose.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 19.—(UN)—The Buffalo International league club scored eight runs in the fifth inning today and beat the Milwaukee American Association club, 11 to 5. Turgeon, Grimes and Thomas hit home runs for Buffalo.

Tars Win Again.

Edwards Is Sent To Piedmont Club

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 19.—(AP)—Pruning knife fell in the Lookout camp today for the first time, with four heads being lopped off so to speak. Bob Edwards, pitcher, picked up from Georgia Tech; Bryant Turner, local sandlot hurler, and Howard Smith, infielder from the Georgia-Alabama league, go to High Point, in the Piedmont league.

Earl Persons, from Gadsden, of the Georgia-Alabama league, goes to Vicksburg, to play for Manager Johnny Brock, 1929 Lookout catcher. Brown, rookie, who reported in the spring, left a few days ago of his own accord.

Regular-Yanigan game was rained out but Manager Rodgers got in a good chalk talk.

"crashed the gate." He is James Mosolf, acquired last year from Wichita of the Western league. Mosolf appears to be a natural hitter and his left-handed wallop has temporarily won him a berth as understudy to First Baseman Suhr.

Besides showing an aptitude around the initial sack, Mosolf has already won his spurs in the smaller circuit as an outfielder, hence Manager Enos' emphasis in stating he will wear a Pirate uniform all season. Ira Flazstead, veteran, and Fred Brickell, are due for outfield utility roles. Flagged to be used against left-handed pitchers. Charles Engle, from Memphis of the Southern association, and Stuart Clarke, with the club last year, apparently have clinched infield utility positions.

CATCHERS UNDECIDED. The first string catching job is still one to be decided. Until Al Boel was purchased last winter from the Baltimore Internationals, Ralston Hensley appeared to be the favorite but now Charley Hargreaves, one of the club's oldsters, has shown a return to form in training, the backstop situation may not be cleared up until the Pirates get on the ground for their opener. Boel, however, has given indication of being the heavy hitter of the trio.

Enos, starting his first full season as pilot, is hopeful but not overconfident. "All we want is a few breaks," he says, "and fewer injuries and the Pirates will be up there."

Hartnett's Brother In Piedmont Loop

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 19.—(AP)—Buster Hartnett, brother of Gabby Hartnett, Chicago Cub catcher, has been signed by the Winston-Salem Twins of the Piedmont league, it was announced tonight by Manager Hal Wenter. Buster is a pitcher and hung up a fine record last season in the Blackstone Valley league, a semi-pro circuit of Massachusetts. He will report Saturday.

Pelicans Nosed Out.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19.—(UN)—The Cleveland Indians were out, 16 blows to 9, but nosed out the New Orleans Pelicans, 11 to 10, in an exhibition game here today. Five errors by the minor leaguers had an important part in the scoring.

Giants Work Hard.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 19.—(UN)—Encourage by the return of warmth and sunshine, Manager McGraw put his New York Giants through two drills here today. The afternoon workout was a prolonged affair, in which Scott, Fitzsimmons, Hubbell and Judd did the pitching.

Fred Lindstrom was discharged from the Medical Arts hospital and watched the workout from the stands.

Barons Beaten.

ANNISTON, Ala., March 19.—(AP)—Squeezing a run across in the ninth, following an error by Baneroff, the Toledo Mudhens of the American association, won from Birmingham, Southern association, here today, 5 to 4. It was the first Toledo victory over the Barons in four starts.

Following today's game the Barons left for Birmingham, where their exhibition series will be continued tomorrow against Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Manager Clyde Milan, of the Barons, expressed satisfaction today over the rapid progress made by the Barons in their spring training.

U. S. B. PLAYS PETREL NINE THIS AFTERNOON

Prep Teams Prepare for Baseball League Opening Next Tuesday.

By Roy White.

Atlanta's prep baseball practice season will be inaugurated at 3 o'clock this afternoon when Coach Hodges takes his University School for Boys nine to Oglethorpe to play Coach Frank Anderson's Petrels. It will be the third practice game for Oglethorpe and the first for University School.

The regular prep league schedule will start next Tuesday afternoon and games will be played each Tuesday and Friday afternoon thereafter until 18 have been played. Several of the coaches wanted to start the season one week later but due to the entry of Commercial High, making it a nine-club league, it was necessary to start earlier in order to finish before the close of school in June. In the event any of the games are rained out the teams will have to double up in order to complete the schedule.

FOUR GAMES. Four games will be played every Tuesday and Friday with one of the teams having an open date each playing date. In the opening schedule Commercial High plays G. M. A. at College Park, Russell and Decatur meet at Decatur, University and Marist play at Marist and Tech High plays Fulton at Brisbane park. Boys' High drew a bye in the opening round.

With only one week of practice and hampered by bad weather during the past few days, prospects for the prep league are not bright at present. Tech High and Boys' High were late starting and with only a few veterans back from last year very little has been accomplished. The teams are far from the usual standard.

Coach Bean is well fortified at Marist, with seven letter men back from last year plus Moe Kunsberg, a former pitcher for the Inman Park Cardinal sandlot team. Holt is a veteran hurler from last year and with Kunsberg to alternate the Marist battery should rank well towards the top of the league.

G. M. A. HOPE.

Clark, a veteran from 1929, is Coach Burbage's main dependence for hurling duties at G. M. A. The remainder of the Cadet team is inexperienced and prospects are not so bright.

University School seems to have a well balanced pitching and catching staff with Ruben Tucker, the league's best southpaw last year, and McKinley ready for duty. Norvell will do the catching for the Bluebirds.

Peck will help Norvell with the catching duties, while Ellington, Kane, Martin, Jackson, Fair and Paschal will fight it out for infield duties. Meier, Alden, Parham, Hall, Nix, Buckalew and Perry will alternate in the outfield in the opening game.

Breezy Winn, a former Boys' High pitching star and last year with Carrollton in the Georgia-Alabama league, has been working out with the Bluebirds and Boys' High during the past few days.

TWO VETERANS.

When Coach Burbage sounded the call for baseball candidates some time ago only two veterans reported for duty. They were Clark, a pitcher, and Mach, an infielder. About 35 youngsters have been trying out for various positions but nothing definite has been decided. Christian, a member of the football team, has about won the catcher's position. He is big and handles himself well. Lara, a reserve pitcher from last year, is being groomed for a first baseman. DeJarnette, a reserve from last year, is working his way into a regular third baseman.

Hackney, the football and basketball star, is trying his hand for the first time at baseball. Coach Burbage is hopeful of developing Hackney into an infielder. He has also been tried at first and second base.

Decatur, Russell High, Fulton High and Commercial High are working hard in their own respective camps. None of them have played any games thus far and very little is known of their strength. Commercial is reported to have six or seven veterans from last year working hard for places on the 1930 team.

Hagen, Kirkwood Score Double Win

ADELAIDE, Australia, March 19.—(AP)—Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood, the globe-touring professionals from the United States, turned in a double victory today.

The visitors beat Rufus Stewart, Australian professional champion, and Fergus McAlister, south Australian professional titleholder, one up. Two amateurs, Ivo Whitton and Ross Savers, fell victims to the Hagen-Kirkwood combination 4 and 3, in another 18-hole encounter.

Greens Section Meets Tonight

A regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta chapter of the United States Golf Association greens section will be held at 6 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club. West End Golf Club will be hosts at the meeting.

A report of the United States Greenskeepers' Association meeting held recently in Louisville, Ky., will be the main topic of discussion at the meeting. Two Atlanta delegates who attended the national meeting will make their reports.

Coast Net Club Seeks Open Meet

The Burlingame Country Club, of San Francisco, is making arrangements for its annual doubles tennis tourney, March 21 to 23. Permission to conduct the tourney as an open event will depend on the sanction of the International Tennis Federation.

Tech Frosh Meet Boys' High Today

Boys' High and Georgia Tech Freshmen track teams will end a series of three dual track meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Grant field. The Purple Hurricanes, under the coaching of C. S. Ward, defeated the Tech Yearlings in two previous meets but the Junior Jackets made a much better record in the last meet than in the first.

Rain and cold weather during the past two days have caused the track teams to work indoors, but despite the necessity of inside work, the teams appear to be in the best of condition and ready for the final meet of the series of three.

Coach Harold Barron and his Georgia Tech track team have been working hard this week in preparation for a dual meet Saturday afternoon on Grant field at 2 o'clock with Furman University from Greenville, S. C. It will be the first of a series of track meets in which the Jackets will take part before entering the Southern conference meet at Birmingham May 16 and 17 in the final track events of the year.

Fives Play Tonight For S. S. A. A. Title

Needing one more victory to win the basketball championship of the Sunday School Athletic Association, Druid Hills Presbyterian will again meet Triple E Class of Second Baptist tonight at Georgia Tech. A victory for Triple E will throw the series into the third and final game.

In the opening battle played last week, Druid Hills nosed out a 20-to-17 victory, and it was not until the final few minutes of play that Druid Hills was able to get in the lead and hold it. This makes the second year that Triple E has gone to the playoffs, and last season they lost to Calvary Methodist in three games, winning the first and losing the last two.

To the winner will go the Southern States Life Insurance Company trophy, which will be held for one year. A team must win the trophy three years for it to become permanent property. Reinforcements in the persons of Crawford, center, and Pharr, guard,

Spartans Seeking 'Twin' Club Berth

SPARTANBURG, S. C., March 19.—(AP)—Spartanburg, whose franchise in the South Atlantic baseball league has been surrendered, wants to become a member of a "twin" club in the loop. Fans today proposed buying half interest in the Greenville club. They would call the club the "Twins."

The proposal has been put before officials of the league and the Greenville club. Clubs in both cities experienced financial trouble at the end of last season, but Greenville managed to pull through. The cities are located about 30 miles apart.

will be out to aid the Druid Hills boys to make it two in a row. Crawford has been sick for the last two weeks and Pharr has been out of the city.

As a preliminary battle to the main event, the Druid Hills Presbyterian girls, undefeated in the S. S. A. A. girls' league, will tie up with Central Presbyterian of the Cherokee league. This game will start at 7:30.

State Girls' Teams Open Play Today

LAKELAND, Ga., March 19.—(AP)—Eight girls' high school basketball squads, the best in their respective sections of the state, start play here tomorrow night in the invitational championship cage tournament.

First round battles call for Glennville and Thomson to clash at 8 o'clock tonight, with Roberta and Dawick following an hour later.

The lower bracket first round engagements start Friday afternoon with Bryan meeting Covington and Lakeland battling Fitzgerald.

Semi-final games will be played Friday night with the title engagement Saturday morning. The winners will meet Palatka High school, claimants to the Florida championship, Saturday night.

Belanger Wins

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 19.—(AP)—Charlie Belanger, Canadian lightweight champion, received an unpopular decision over Joe Goland, Binghamton, N. Y., in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Last Hanging Case Before High Court

The state supreme court Wednesday took under advisement the case of a negro who contends that his death sentence for murder should be declared inoperative because the law under which he was indicted was repealed before his conviction.

The case, discussed in legal circles as "the last of the hanging cases," is that of Arthur Myers, Augusta negro, who was convicted of slaying a railroad detective in the Augusta yards of the Georgia railroad in the early part of 1924.

Between time of his indictment, however, and his trial, four years elapsed, due to his having escaped from custody. And during that time the hanging law, in force when Myers was indicted, was repealed and the existing electrocution law substituted. Ben Pierce, of Augusta, representing Myers, contended that a repealing clause in the electrocution law had eliminated the hanging law from consideration, and that his client should be set free.

'Sewage Nuisance' Suit Results in Mistrial

A mistrial resulted Wednesday in the suit of C. M. Cleveland against the cities of Atlanta and Decatur in the city court of Decatur for $12,000 damages and an injunction to halt the disposal of sewage in Sugar creek running through his property east of Atlanta. After an hour's deliberation the jury in the case announced that it was hopelessly divided.

The suit was brought against the two municipalities on the grounds that the action of sewage disposal was a cause of sickness and a loss of sales and rental value of the property as well as being a private and permanent nuisance. The two cities maintained that the creek had been used for such a purpose for 20 years, thus constituting a prescriptive easement. However, it was stated by the cities' attorneys that plans are under foot for the eventual abandonment of the stream as a means of sewage disposal.

Church Pension Fund Heads To Meet Here

A conference between Dr. A. E. Cory, director of the Disciples of Christ pension fund, and pastors of the Christian church in the southeastern district, relative to the pension fund now being established by the church, will be held in Atlanta today.

About 25 pastors from Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas are expected to attend. The church is attempting to raise a fund of $8,000,000 to care for aged ministers. The fund will become operative the first of next year and after that time all pastors are expected to give 2 1/2 per cent of their salary to the fund while their churches will give 8 per cent. Forty-two churches in Georgia have agreed to the 8 per cent gift annually.

When the fund becomes operative the Christian church ministers will be retired at 65 years of age or after 35 years service on half of their average pay during their service.

Plan Body Will Hear Candler Square Plea

Members of the city planning commission will consider Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock a petition of sixth ward citizens to name the square at the intersection of Carnegie way and Spring street in honor of the late Asa G. Candler, Sr.

Other petitions to be brought to the attention of the commission by R. W. Torras, engineer-secretary, are:

To change from dwelling house district to industrial district, property situated on the northeast corner of Gress avenue and Grady avenue, extending 50 feet on the east side of Gress avenue and 135 feet on the north side of Grady avenue.

To change from dwelling house district to business district, property beginning 50 feet south of Glenwood avenue, extending 55 feet on the east side of Boulevard and for a depth of 175 feet.

To change from dwelling house district to business district, property beginning 51 feet north of Glenwood avenue and extending 55 feet on the west side of Grant street.

Big Police Barbecue Scheduled for May 21

COMPARE VALUES BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. Here are three reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) The Ford charges for financing are low.

(3) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f. o. b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices. None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f. o. b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

Highest Honors Are Paid As De Rivera Is Buried

MADRID, March 19. (AP)—Primo De Rivera rests in a soldier's grave, honored with the highest tributes a nation can bestow.

The man who ruled Spain as a dictator for six years and then went into exile, was placed beside the body of his wife in San Isidro cemetery today, and rain-soaked flowers to-morrow are piled high on a grave that will bear with the honors of a captain-general in the army and premier in the civic establishment.

Premier Domingo Borenquer and other luminaries of the country, including King Alfonso, were in the chapel while masses were said half-heartily. So great was the lam that the king, the king's brothers, the king's men, officers and others had difficulty in entering the station.

When the march to the cemetery began, the king, in a caisson drawn by six prancing black horses, followed by a detachment of men in black trappings. Don Fernando Bourbon followed it as a representative of the nation.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

DIPPER SHOWS OFF.
By Thornton W. Burgess.

He is not vain who shows his skill;
He has a right to it he will.

—Dipper the Grebe.

Farmer Brown's Boy was much interested in his new pet, Dipper the Grebe. Dipper being a very little bird very friendly with Farmer Brown's Boy. You see, Dipper knew who it was that fed him. So they were getting to be great friends. But there was one thing that Farmer Brown's Boy didn't count on. This was Dipper's appetite. It seemed as if Dipper was hungry all the time and all he wanted was fish. Farmer Brown's Boy did get him to eat a little meat, but fish was what Dipper wanted and it was astonishing how many fish he could put away. Yes, sir, it was so. So there was nothing for Farmer Brown's Boy to do but to go catch fish, and this wasn't always the easiest thing to do.

"There's no use talking," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "I can't keep this up. I have other things to do besides going fishing. So as long as there's nothing the matter with you, I think I'll give you your liberty."

Of course, Dipper didn't understand any of this and of course Farmer Brown's Boy didn't expect that he would. So Dipper was very much puzzled when one morning Farmer Brown's Boy gathered him up and started off across the Green Meadows with him. "I wonder what he's going to do with me now," thought Dipper. "Yes, sir, I wonder what he's going to do with me now. I hope I ain't going to take me back to leave me where he found me. That would be dreadful. I don't know what I would do."

So Dipper really was a little anxious as Farmer Brown's Boy, with Flip at his heels, tramped down across the Green Meadows.

Straight past the place where Farmer Brown's Boy had picked Dipper up they went. Somehow, without being able to see it, Dipper knew that they were coming near water. He began to get excited. Yes, sir, Dipper began to get excited. Presently they were right on the shore of the Smiling Pool. The ice was gone. Farmer Brown's Boy held Dipper so that he could see the water. Dipper quivered all over. Oh, how he did long to get into that water! Farmer Brown's Boy felt him quiver in eagerness. He smiled. Then he put Dipper down a little way back from the Smiling Pool. He gave him a gentle pat and let him go. It was funny—it really was funny—to see Dipper waddle to the top of the bank and then actually fall right down the bank to the water. No one could be more awkward or clumsy than he was now.

But the moment he was on that water, such a change as took place! It didn't seem as if he could be the same bird. He was at home there. Yes, indeed, he was at home there. First he ducked his head several times. Then he looked up at Farmer Brown's Boy and Flip. He swam in circles. He swam across the Smiling Pool and back again. And then he dived. Yes, sir, he dived. One instant he was there swimming and the next instant he had disappeared. Farmer Brown's Boy and Flip waited and watched. There was no sign of Dipper. Flip wondered what could have become of him. He wondered and wondered. Then he heard his master chuckle. He looked up to see Farmer Brown's Boy looking at the upper end of the Smiling Pool. At first Flip saw nothing. Then quite unexpectedly he discovered a head. It was Dipper's head, and only his head could be seen. All the rest of him was under water.

Dipper popped up, then once more he dived. This time he came up with a fish in his mouth. He was very much at home now and very, very happy.

"I hope you'll stay with us all summer," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "but I don't suppose you will. As a matter of fact, Dipper left that very night on his way north to look for a mate."

The next story: "Flip Finds a Strange Fellow."

Shortage in Bank.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 19.—(AP)—H. L. Grisby, state superintendent of banks, tonight announced that the Bank of Telford at Telford, Tenn., was taken over by the state today after Fred H. Wagner, vice president and cashier, told H. B. Clark, state examiner, there was a shortage in his accounts in excess of $20,000, the amount of the bank's capital.

OFFICER DENIES TROTH BEFORE WIFE'S DEATH

Army Major Charged With Spouse's Murder Talks in Colorado Jail.

DENVER, Col., March 19.—(AP)—Major Charles A. Shepard, United States army officer in jail here, charged with the murder last June of his wife at Fort Riley, Kan., today, in an interview, said he became engaged to wed Miss Grace Brandon, 23-year-old Brooks field, Texas, stenographer, eight months after the death of his wife.

Explaining that his wife was the victim of a "tragic habit," Major Shepard said, "I did everything in my power as husband and physician to help free her from the habit, but to no avail."

He denied he poisoned his wife, as charged by federal agents and declared he submitted to a blood transfusion in an effort to save her life.

"Does that look as though I wanted to be rid of her?" he asked.

Liquor Said Cause.

Reports from Fort Riley said that the officer ascribed his wife's condition to the use of liquor.

Major Shepard said he met Miss Brandon in 1928 at Brooks field, where he took a course in aviation surgery prior to his wife's death. After the cremation of his wife's body in Los Angeles, he said he went to San Antonio, where he again saw Miss Brandon. He said he expressed the hope then that the friendship between them might "become a deeper sentiment as time went on."

Earlier in the day a message signed "Love, Grace," was delivered to Major Shepard from San Antonio. It read:

"Received three packages Saturday. Thanks very much. Messrs. Lawrence and Davis from the department of justice, interviewed me about the death of Mrs. S. Am upset, embarrassed and bewildered. What does it mean? Love, Grace."

Miss Brandon denied to newspapermen at Brooks field that she had sent the message or that she was more than casually acquainted with the medical officer who was on the staff at Fitzsimmons General Hospital at Denver.

It was the delivery of this message that caused Major Shepard to discuss his asserted proposal and betrothal to Miss Brandon.

United States District Attorney Ralph L. Carr said Major Shepard will be held in jail here until an order is received to transfer the army officer to Kansas. He said bail probably will not be set.

The charges against Major Shepard are expected to be placed before a grand jury at Topeka on April 14. Major Shepard was arraigned yesterday and pleaded not guilty.

5 CO-EDS CAPTURE UNIVERSITY SIMIAN

MADISON, Wis., March 19.—(AP)—The monkey that escaped Sunday from the University of Wisconsin zoology department has been captured, not by the posses organized especially for that purpose, but by five co-eds.

For two days law and engineering students were excused from some of their classes and formed posses to make a systematic search.

Last night one of the members of the Arden Club awoke to find a hairy face peering at her. She screamed and five other co-eds, armed with golf clubs and canes ran to her rescue.

Surrounding the monkey, they got him on the bed, wrapped him up in the covers, and the monkey search was over.

Negro's Nomination To Judgeship Scored

AUSTIN, Texas, March 19.—(AP)—Scoring the nomination by President Hoover of a negro for appointment to a judgeship in the District of Columbia, Senator Thomas J. Holtzman, of Galveston, today introduced a resolution in the senate calling upon the Byrdhart congressional committee to conduct a further investigation of republican patronage practices. The resolution was adopted by a rising vote.

Bandit Plays Clerk After Robbing Store

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 19.—(AP)—While robbing a suburban drug store here today a young white man waited on two customers who chanced in, making change for a $10 bill for one from the $140 that had been taken from the safe.

The robber tied with string J. W. Head, the proprietor, and his clerk, Frank Bruer, and left them in the back of the store. Then he paused long enough in his work to answer the telephone and wait on the trade. His work completed, the robber locked the front door and left by the rear entrance.

INCOME TAX REPORT TEN MILLION BEHIND '29

$99,666,010 Already Collected for First Three Months.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—Although treasury officials remained unwilling to venture predictions, returns up to today from the March 15 income tax installment supported the view that the first quarterly collection might come up to the budget requirements.

The latest official figures available placed the amount turned in by the close of business on March 17 at $99,666,010, a little less than $100,000,000 below the figure for the same date last March when the total collections for the month were $601,000,000.

On the basis of the last 1 per cent reduction in income tax rates, the treasury estimated the budget on a first-quarter collection of $550,000,000 from this source, should the present proportion between this year's receipts and March last year be maintained this expectation would be met.

The receipts for March 18, to be announced tomorrow, may establish whether this proportion will be maintained. Last year the same day showed the largest receipts out of the March 15 collection, totaling more than $161,000,000.

So far the daily receipts since March 15 have shown a definite relationship to the figures for the same days last year, but the audit of collections has gone further. Treasury officials were not disposed to conclude that a definite trend has been established.

Should the proportion be maintained and the $550,000,000 be collected, it would indicate that the stock market collapse of last fall had not been sufficient to overcome the increased earnings of the first part of last year, when new records for volume of business were set in many directions.

IN AID OF MOTHER, MAN KILLS FATHER-IN-LAW

SHREVEPORT, La., March 19.—(AP)—T. C. Finnen, 21, today blew his father's head off with a shotgun in the family store on Caddo lake, allegedly in defense of his mother. The sheriff said he found the mother with a black eye and bruises that bore out the young man's story and he released him on his own recognizance pending a hearing.

Grocer Kills Man He Asked To Aid In Thief Search

MADISONVILLE, Tenn., March 19.—(AP)—J. P. Kennedy, 47, Monroe county sheriff and father of 10 children, was shot to death early today by a wholesale grocery store manager who had summoned him to search for thieves.

The manager, Albert Jenkins, said he and the sheriff met in the darkness at the store, that each thought the other was a trespasser, and that he fired both barrels of a shotgun into Kennedy's breast when the latter flashed a light in his face. Jenkins was not arrested.

Jenkins' story was corroborated by Deputy Sheriff Bob Raulston, who accompanied the sheriff, and by Tom Jenkins, the manager's brother, who also was present.

A ladder and other evidence indicated thieves actually had been at the store, and escaped either before the shooting or during the attendant confusion.

This morning's affair was the third recent attempt to rob the store and the third time Kennedy had been shot while on duty. The widow and 10 children survive.

Trial Date Set.

FOOD FOR THE FAT

TWO GRAINS OF GLAND FOOD DAILY THEN THE FOODS YOU LOVE

FAT people, of course, should not over-eat. They rarely do. But starvation is a very risky way to reduce.

Modern science finds that a common cause of excess fat lies in an under-active gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. People grow fat when its secretions are scanty, despite all exercise and diet.

So physicians everywhere, in treating obesity, now feed a certain gland food. They combat the cause. The results are amazing, and they come in the right way.

A famous medical laboratory embodies that method in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. All can see the results on every hand. Excess fat is far less common than twenty years ago.

The Marmola prescription is not secret. The formula is stated in every box. All the good results are explained. So users know why the flesh reduction brings such extra health and vigor.

No abnormal exercise or diet. Simply take four tablets daily until you reach the weight desired. Then you will know that the cause is corrected. An abnormal condition has been changed.

Try Marmola. It has served so many for so long that you owe this to yourself. Watch the new youth and beauty as it comes, the new health and vigor. Then tell your friends. Go start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is not will gladly order for you.

ruffles! romancel rings!

That's every girl's program for this summer! The romantic revival of feminine fashions is predicted to start all sorts of engagement rumors! But remember that the new clothes demand the new complexion! A more "natural" skin-tone is in vogue—a rich, pearl-cream color, with delicate texture just made for caresses! Armand Cold Cream Powder produces this effect. You rub it first into the puff, then spread on smoothly, slowly, evenly—toning the face to a fresher tint, and more lasting loveliness.

ARMAND COLD CREAM POWDER

Right Idea

This six-year-old athlete is the son of Mrs. C. C. Landford, 435 Boulevard, S. E., Atlanta. She says: "Jack's wonderful condition shows my idea is right."

"Whenever he's the least cross or upset, or has a cold, I give him a little California Fig Syrup. It always brightens him up; regulates his stomach and bowels; gives him a hearty appetite. I have used it with my boy since he was a year old, and it has never failed to help him promptly."

All children love the rich, fruity flavor of California Fig Syrup. A pure vegetable product, it doesn't gripe or sicken. It always acts gently but thoroughly to cleanse the system of bilious, headachy, constipated children. Doctors say it tones the strengths weak bowels. Try it with your child. See how bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness disappear."

The name California marks the genuine, famous for 50 years. So look for it when buying—(adv.)

Late Mrs. Luke Johnson Honored By Methodist Missionary Council

At the annual session of that body March 18 in Amarillo, Texas, according to word received here, in changing the name of Bethlehem House, a home for girls maintained by the council, that body conferred a distinct honor upon this beloved Georgia woman. E. church, south, which presented to President Hoover a declaration of appreciation of her services to the church and to the world peace and human welfare. She was a member of the executive of the Federal Council of the Churches of America; secretary of the general conference of the commission on nationalism; a member of the North Georgia Conference of the Methodist Board of Missions; a member of its executive committee, and secretary of its rural committee. She wrote and signed the memorial on Italy raised to the rank of a member of the conference in Atlanta in 1918, being made after the law was passed, a delegate to the first general conference to admit women, which was held in 1924.

Mrs. Johnson has two surviving daughters, Mrs. Parks Johnson, of Dalton, Tex., and Mrs. James Merritt, of Gainesville. She was a sister of the late Dr. M. M. 'First' Trip to Arkansas City May Be Man's Last CLARKSVILLE, Ark., March 19. (AP)—A 65-year-old man was in Clarksville today—and whether it is his first visit is a question upon which possibly hinges his conviction of a murder 28 years ago.

Arrested in Las Vegas, Nev., several weeks ago, a man said by officials to be John P. Dunn, sought for more than a quarter of a century for killing Sheriff John Powers, was brought here last night from the state penitentiary at McAlester, Okla., where he had been held since his return from Nevada.

But he denies he is Dunn and says he never was in Clarksville before. One man here, Joe King, circuit clerk and former deputy under Sheriff Powers, has identified the man positively as Dunn, one of four men who robbed a bank and killed the sheriff in a gun battle that failed. Two of the other men were hanged and another sent to prison. Dunn escaped.

The date for the trial has not been set.

Adventures of Seckatary Hawkins

WE WERE FOLLOWING THE DOG, TELL-ME, ON THE TRAIL OF LINK, WHO HAD MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED. THE DOG HAD BROUGHT BACK A NOTE FROM LINK, TELLING US TO FOLLOW THE DOG, AND HE WOULD TAKE US TO LINK.

SOFTLY I TIP-TOED AFTER THE DOG. HE HAD LED US INTO THIS CAVE. THE PASSAGE WAS BEGINNING TO SLOPE, SHARPLY AND SUDDENLY, I LEADING THE WAY, STOPPED SHORT, AND ALL THE OTHERS BROUGHT UP SHARPLY BEHIND ME.

WE WERE STARING INTO A BIG CAVERN, IN WHICH SAT THREE MEN. WHEN WE SAW WHO THE THREE MEN WERE, WE GAVE A GASP OF SURPRISE. AROUND A TABLE SAT LINK'S UNCLE RAFAEL, WITH HIS SERVANT AND HIS LAWYER.

I WAS ABOUT TO TELL LUCIO THAT WE HAD BETTER GET OUT WHILE THE GETTING WAS GOOD, WHEN SUDDENLY A DOOR WAS OPENED AND TWO MEN WERE USHERED IN, HANDS TIED. IT WAS THE LAME MAN—AND HIS OLD SEA CAPTAIN.

U. S. Drug Agents Plan To Search 21 Liners

NEW YORK, March 19.—(P)—Believing a tip that the French liner, France, carried $683,000 worth of narcotics was a blind to divert suspicion from other liners, federal agents today were prepared to search 21 ships due here from Europe this week.

More than 100 federal narcotic bureau operatives went through the France from hold to superstructure searching for the shipment which they had been informed was to be brought in on that liner. They found nothing.

Orders from Washington also were issued for the search of vessels making port at Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore. Canadian authorities were notified to be on the lookout for the shipment on ships touching at Halifax and St. Lawrence river ports.

An attempt to smuggle $144,000 worth of narcotics, into this country in the baggage of Sir Duncan Orr-Lewis, British nobleman, was revealed yesterday when Sir Duncan went before a federal grand jury and told how he had found a trunk among his luggage which did not belong to him, although it was tagged with his name. He turned it over to customs authorities when he arrived on the Majestic last week.

Two men, one of whom said he was "Horace McDonald," secretary to Sir Duncan, attempted to claim the trunk. It was refused when they could not show credentials. Later one man returned and identified himself, as Charles Wimmer. He was arrested when the trunk was opened and was found to contain narcotics valued at $144,000.

Agnes Scott Girls Hear Marburg Talk

Theodore Marburg, former minister to Belgium, spoke at Agnes Scott college Wednesday morning, and the subject of his talk was the world court, with which he has an intimate knowledge.

He stated that the idea of the world court was not new, as it dated back to Greek civilization and in America as far back as the Hay treaty of 1784. He asserted that the world court is the natural outgrowth of The Hague conference and that citizens of the United States have played a prominent part in its formation. In conclusion he stated that the court was growing daily in prestige as well as in its scope of activity.

The Emperor of America

by Sax Rohmer

EIGHTH INSTALLMENT.

"Neither could I," said Stopford. "Go on."

"This scheme," Roscoe continued, "has a sudden inspiration. That you would turn up I never even dreamed. I was just playing for time; and I remembered that they knew you here. To call the ship was out of the question. It's ten dollars to a peanut they have the line tapped. So this what my next move would have been I have no idea. But—"

The phone bell interrupted him. "Hello," said Stopford. "Shall I answer?"

Roscoe nodded. Stopford took up the receiver.

"Please, who is speaking?" a familiar voice asked.

"My dear Madame Czerna," he began, glancing guiltily over his shoulder.

"It is you!" she went on, almost breathlessly. "Listen, listen—and do exactly as I say. Do not come down stairs again. Do not try to see me. This I ask for my own safety. Stay in your room until I can call you to say it is safe. Good-by."

A point of red light glowed in the darkness of a room high above the hurrying, pleasure-seeking throngs of New York.

"H. Q.," said a clear voice. "Report of Zone Officer 2 A from Hotel Memphis. Dr. Stopford arrived at three minutes after midnight. She established touch. He is now in his room. The steward who booked the room is with him. Zone Officer 2 A awaits instructions. Report ends."

"Report of Zone Officer 2 A from the darkened room."

"To hand. Patrol reports that Zone Officer 2 A is in the hotel lobby. He is waiting for the doctor. He spoke to him on his arrival. He went up in elevator. Zone Officer 2 A shortly afterwards received H. Q. call, was paged, and went to a phone box. Report ends."

"Report of Zone Officer 3 C."

"To hand. Dr. Stopford left the Ruritania at eleven-five. A group master followed. Stopford went first to Roscoe's apartment, but, failing to get admittance, proceeded to Hotel Memphis. Report ends."

"The fourth report of Divisional Chief A. This is already six minutes late."

"To hand. Commander Roscoe is not in the A Zones. Report ends."

Followed some moments of absolute silence. A yellow hand moved. The red light in the lobby was extinguished. Then out of the darkness:

"Instruct Zone Officer 2 A to re-establish touch with Stopford immediately. She is to use every possible means to detain him until the Ruritania sails. In the event of her failure, Zone Officer 3 C is permitted to rejoin his ship. Advise Zone Officer 3 C. Notify divisional chiefs that Commander Roscoe is somewhere in the zones and that his exact whereabouts must be reported to me within the next hour. This is a general emergency order and cancels all others. Move."

Madame Czerna, through the glazed door of the telephone booth, studied the lobby of the Memphis hotel. A few minutes after Stopford had gone up in the elevator she had been called to the telephone. Closing the door: "H. Q.," a familiar sing-song voice had said over the wires.

"Zone 2-A."

"Make your report."

"I have spoken to Dr. Stopford. He arrived at three minutes after 12. He has gone up to his room, but is joining me later."

"Where is the ship's steward?"

"I suppose upstairs."

"Keep in touch. Stand by for instructions."

H. Q. had rung off. But Madame was covertly watching a man who sat in the lobby, apparently reading an evening paper. He was a tall, well-built man, and she had seen him before—more than once. This service—which was less service than highly paid slavery—was beginning to tell upon her sensitive temperament. She had not realized all that it meant. She had never counted upon Dr. Stopford's becoming involved in the mesh. The tall-faced man was watching her—unmistakably. He had crossed to the desk and asked for a number.

STEEL SKIRMISH

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, March 19.

(P)—Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier, revealed today that his altercation, the absorption of the Youngstown Sheet &amp; Tube Company by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation is the acquisition of the Inland Steel Company, of Chicago, by Sheet &amp; Tube.

This was the first time he had shown his hand as leader of the opposition to the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger.

He denied reports that the Republic Steel Corporation, which he organized, seeks to acquire Sheet &amp; Tube.

Point by point he compared advantages of an Inland-Sheet &amp; Tube merger over a Sheet &amp; Tube-Bethlehem merger.

Concurrently with Eaton's statement, proponents of the Bethlehem-Sheet &amp; Tube merger announced that a counter attack against Eaton's group will be made at public meeting here in a few days. The attack will be led by Charles M. Schwab, chairman and founder of the Bethlehem, and by Eugene R. Grace, president.

Eaton, in his statement today said he is the largest stockholder in Sheet &amp; Tube and the largest holder of securities in Youngstown industries, and therefore his interest in keeping Youngstown as an important steel center.

He said the barriers that have arisen around the Mahoning Valley steel district here would give the consolidation with a company in the west and not in the east.

Acquisition of Inland by Sheet &amp; Tube, Eaton said, would give the Youngstown company all the diversity of products and other sources of profit which the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger without.

Youngstown company being dominated by a larger corporation.

collateral for the past five years. Call money renewed at 3 per cent for the first time since 1925, and drop in the market for the day. Outside loans were offered as low as 1 1/2 per cent. Bankers' acceptance rates were reduced further, making the market for 2 per cent. This widespread reduction in the cost of money was the result of a general easing of conditions in the money market. The Federal Reserve Bank, in its weekly report, stated that the volume of business was increasing, and that the market for money was becoming more active. The bank also noted that the demand for loans was increasing, and that the supply of money was becoming more ample. This report was widely welcomed by the market, and it was expected that the easing of conditions would continue for some time to come.

Grand Jury Not Acquainted With Facts, Ritchie Says

School Business Head Answers More of Charges Made Against His Methods.

Claiming that charges against his office had originated with people who were unacquainted with the real facts of the situation, R. R. Ritchie, business superintendent of the Atlanta schools, Wednesday afternoon reiterated a sweeping denial of all accusations growing out of the recent presentments of the Fulton county grand jury. The question was being investigated before a special committee of the board of education and Ritchie read before this body typewritten answers to a list of 21 questions which had been submitted to him. In addition a number of witnesses were questioned by members of the group who sought to clear up transactions connected with the construction and maintenance of various public schools.

In not a single instance was Mr. Ritchie found to be without a full and complete account of all deals with which he had been connected except in the case of a lengthy report which he stated would be ready for the committee at the next meeting, Friday.

Uses "Utmost Care."

"I have always taken the utmost care in the conduct of my department and I am prepared to give the most minute details connected with any transaction which may be brought before the committee at any time. In every instance we have done the work as called for by the contract."

Recent charges of "bootlegging" on the grounds of various city schools were echoed in one question which asked what had been done to cause this practice to be discontinued.

"We want to find out if any of our employees are in 'cabinets' with anyone who is trafficking in liquor and if you have ever failed to tell what you know in regard to protecting any member of the board of education in regard to bootlegging," was one question included in the list.

Replying, Mr. Ritchie stated that he had never protected anyone; that the school grounds naturally provided ideal looking places for criminal characters since they were often unoccupied.

C. OF C. DIRECTORATE PRAISES AD CAMPAIGN

Resolution Lauds Results of Forward Atlanta Drive.

Praise of the excellent record of advertising Atlanta and its advantages for national industries by the Forward Atlanta Commission, which has just completed its four-year program, was voiced Wednesday in resolutions adopted by the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

The resolutions, as announced by Horace Russell, president of the chamber, are as follows:

"The final report of the Forward Atlanta Commission, covering a period of four years, is an outstanding one, and will long be a model for civic leaders to follow. Not only is the intense interest and loyalty of the members manifested in this report, but it exemplifies the great wisdom of its leaders in securing and providing results."

The large sum of $222,000 was carefully expended and every item of expense and income listed in this report.

In setting aside ample funds to carry on the work of the industrial bureau of the Chamber of Commerce in following through on unfinished work, which will continue to filter in for some time to come, the commission has really completed their task in a way which should delight and gratify every loyal citizen of Atlanta and particularly those contributors who made this great work possible.

"The outstanding success of the commission has been largely due to the splendid efforts of the executives who have directed the work. W. R. C. Smith, the originator of the movement, president of the Chamber of Commerce during 1925 when the commission was formed and chairman of the media committee; George W. West, chairman of the commission for the last three years; Ivan Allen, chairman of the commission for the first year and chairman of the industrial bureau for three years; and William Candler, chairman of the finance committee."

Therefore, he resolved by the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce:

"1. That the final report of the Forward Atlanta Commission as of January 1, 1930, be accepted with the cordial thanks and congratulations of the board for the splendid work accomplished.

"2. That copies of this resolution be furnished the press of Atlanta and to the members of the commission."

STATE TO PAY SCHOOL DEBTS, DUGGAN SAYS

Assurance that the state would pay its obligations to the county educational systems and that the state department of education would make every proper effort to secure these payments at an early date, was given by Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, in a circular letter addressed to county school superintendents Wednesday.

"The governor borrowed $1,000,000 for payment on the 1930 appropriation, which has already been sent out to the schools. I believe and confidently expect that the governor will make loans under his constitutional borrowing power which will be available at an early date. I am unable to answer the question as to just when or how much he will borrow," Dr. Duggan said.

"The last legislature preserved the local status of all unpaid business of 1928 and 1929 (including the Barrett-Rogers schools) in joint resolution No. 45, which authorized, empowered, and directed the governor to pay such unpaid balances in full on such appropriations for the years 1928 and 1929 out of any funds available in the treasury from revenues now or hereafter provided by law. Only the governor has authority to determine when any funds in the treasury become 'available' for these obligations. The state will assuredly discharge in full these sacred obligations. The department of education will make every proper effort to secure these payments at the earliest possible date."

"I am advised that the returns from the sales tax so far have been disappointing. As is generally understood, the statutory income tax is still before the supreme court. State Auditor Tom Wisdom does not think that the early payments can be made on the unpaid balances of 1928 and 1929 or upon the amounts allocated to the Barrett-Rogers schools for those years out of revenues coming into the treasury."

Prohibition Here To Stay, Morgan Says at Meeting

Prohibition came in for a share of attention of the crowds at the international Bible conference at the Baptist tabernacle Wednesday, when Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, noted English and American divine, declared in his address that the law as it now stands is here to stay.

The controversy, he declared, has reached a point where it has become a supreme test of the power of the nation to enforce the laws it makes and recession from its present position would constitute a confession of weakness which would strike at the very foundation of American government.

The preacher hailed the public hearings before a committee of congress as a moral victory for the prohibitionist forces, asserting that the evidence presented overwhelmingly supported their position.

Dr. Morgan delivers his last address of the week at 10 o'clock this morning after which he returns to his own church, the Tabernacle Presbyterian, Philadelphia, to remain through Sunday, returning here Monday.

The Rev. J. Alfred Kaye will preach at the 7:30 o'clock service tonight, continuing a series of sermons he has been giving during the morning service, "Jesus, a Bringer of Joy," as his subject.

The Rev. Mr. Kaye has been opposing the attitude that Christianity is a religion of austerity and repression, asserting that the great work of Jesus on earth not only provided a way to joy in a future life but has given men, regardless of social and economic condition, a new grasp on happiness in life on earth.

The lecture on the Book of Hebrews, by Dr. A. T. Robertson, originally scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning, will be given at 11 o'clock so that Dr. Morgan may preach at the 10 o'clock service and conclude early enough to catch a train back to Philadelphia.

The Rev. T. F. Callaway will open the day's program with devotional exercises at 9:30 o'clock. The Rev. Frank Crossley Morgan, of Augusta, will lecture at 4 o'clock and will occupy the pulpit at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, it was announced by Rev. Len G. Broughton, director of the conference and pastor of the Tabernacle.

Exiled Soviet Leader Reported Near Death

BERLIN, March 19.—(AP)—The Tagblatt reported today that the illness of Leon Trotsky, exiled Soviet leader, had taken a critical turn at Constantinople.

The former Russian chieftain has been ill since before his exile in 1924, but dispatches last December indicated that he was recovering.

When first he arrived at his island home in Turkey he appeared a sick, pallid down-and-out, but later he recovered much of his mental and physical vigor as a result of activity around his island retreat in the Marmora sea.
